SERIES OF NATURAL DISASTERS HAPPEN ACROSS THE WORLD

Earthquake, Storm, Flood Strike Simultaneously In Widely-Separated Areas of Europe and the Orient—Lives Taken, Many Persons Seriously Injured and Much Damage

(By the Canadian Press)

A SERIES of disasters caused by earthquakes, storms and floods occurred almost simultaneously in various parts of the world yesterday, striking at widely-separated areas through Europe, the Near East and the Orient.

Five were killed and sixteen gravely injured when a sharp quake shook Central Japan, starting 1,000 fires and wreaking heavy damage in Tokio and Osaka. Communication lines were disrupted and many homes wrecked.

COLD IN CHINA

Hundreds of passengers were marooned on more than twenty ice-bound ships in the Gulf of Pechili as a terrific snowstorm, followed by a cold wave, swept all North China.

An earthquake rocked Istanbul and surrounding points at about the same time the quake occurred in Japan. Thousands of Turks abandoned their homes and fled through the streets in terror, fearing continued temblors. No casualties were reported, despite heavy damage to property.

FLOODS IN SPAIN

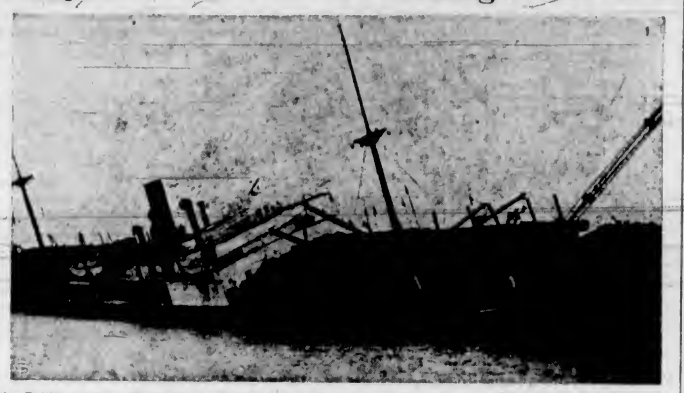

Floods menaced lives in Spain, already gripped by grave post-election disorders, leaving 2,500 families homeless. Andalusia and Central Spain reported great property damage but no serious casualties. Neighboring Portugal was buffeted, suffering further property damage, by another severe storm in the series that has swept the country recently.

A landslide occurred in Italy in the Stora valley, Liguria. Inhabitants of the region had been evacuated in time, however.

FARMERS MAROONED

In New Zealand, a three-day downpour destroyed crops and killed hundreds of cattle. Fifty farmers trapped by the rising floods were marooned over night until rescued.

Limps Into Port With Dangerous List

The British steamer Trelissick is pictured as she limped into the port of Astoria, Ore., recently, with a dangerous list to port. The freighter sent a distress signal from a point 250 miles southwest of the mouth of the Columbia River, and aid was rushed by the United States Coast Guard. It was feared for a while that officers and crew would have to abandon the ship, but Captain Michael Nolan succeeded in turning his ship around and reaching port safely.

ITALIANS STRENGTHEN EFFORT FOR VICTORIOUS ACHIEVEMENT

Mussolini Creates Fourth Army Corps for Ethiopian War as Important Developments Predicted On Northern Front—Salassie Reported Advancing Proposals for Peace

Important New Territory Taken in Fresh Offensive

ROME, Feb. 21 (CP-Havas).—Important events are imminent on the Northern war front, well-informed sources predicted tonight, as Premier Mussolini created a fourth army corps for the Ethiopian war. Marshal Pietro Badoglio, in a communique today, stated that the Italian forces had occupied strong positions south of Buia in their march on Mount Alaji. It was forecast here that the biggest battle since Enderta would occur shortly in the very shadow of Alaji.

The Blackshirt troops were reported within sixteen miles of the 11,000-foot mountain fortress, where Ras Mulugheta's forces are believed digging in to halt the Italian advance.

General Ezio Babbini, commander of the Sabauda Division, which played an important role in the recent Italian offensive, was named commander of the new army corps, with General Domenico La Runa assuming command of the corps' artillery units. Gen. Italo Garibaldi was named commander of the Sabauda division.

RESUME OFFENSIVE

WITH THE NORTHERN ITALIAN ARMY IN ETHIOPIA, AT THE FRONT, Feb. 20 (Delayed) (AP).—Italy's Northern army resumed the offensive today and conquered important new territory without so much as a shot being fired.

A force of 20,000 white troops marched twelve miles, conquering twenty new towns. Thirty-five towns were captured in a battle between February 10 and 15.

No sign was seen of the army of 50,000 of Ras Mulugheta, Ethiopian Minister of War, continuing a swift retreat to the south.

Total territory conquered by Italy since February 10 is 1,920 square kilometres, one-fourth of which was taken today.

REST IS INDICATED

There were indications that the army would now rest for a few days before the final stage. There were many indications that so far as this front is concerned the war is all but over.

The advance today took in all of the fertile plain of Buie and set up

SAYS ALARM IS NEEDLESS

Minister Explains Government Trying to Equalize Compensation Rates

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (CP).—In cutting hospitalization allowances for the senior commissioned and non-commissioned ranks of ex-service men as from March 1, the Government was endeavoring to equalize the rates of compensation for all, Pensions Minister Power told the House of Commons today.

While press dispatches appearing in today's newspapers relative to the reduction were "quite true," the Minister felt they were "perhaps of a nature to alarm needlessly the interested parties."

"In no case has the rate of compensation for private soldiers, who compose 90.7 per cent of the hospital population, been touched," said the Minister.

SOME MISUNDERSTANDING

Other sections of the order in council, effective March 1, which contained provisions relating also to certain administrative features, had given rise to misunderstanding between departmental officers and officers of the Canadian Legion, Major Power said. This had reference to interpretation of certain phrases and legal terms.

GOVERNOR IS CALLED TO BAR

Lord Tweedsmuir Made Honorary Bencher of Law Society at Toronto

TORONTO, Feb. 21 (CP).—Canada's Governor-General was called to the bar of Ontario today. Thirty-five years after he became an English barrister as John Buchan, Lord Tweedsmuir was enrolled an an honorary bencher of the Law Society of Upper Canada.

The Governor-General told the benchers at Osgoode Hall that their job was "not merely to interpret a body of doctrine, but in that interpretation to keep it in close touch with contemporary life, and took occasion to remind them that "laws are made in their final form by Parliaments and Congresses—people notoriously incompetent for the task." Nevertheless, the law was "the true cement of civilization."

JURISTS PRESENTED

Benchers and judges of the Supreme Court were presented to Lord Tweedsmuir in convocation hall of the law school. Thence he was escorted to a dais in the Great Library. Before the dais were Sir William Mulock, Chief Justice of Ontario; Hon. F. R. Latchford, Chief Justice in Appeal; Hon. H. E. Rose, Chief Justice of the High Court, and other judges of the Supreme Court of Ontario.

Hon. N. W. Rowell, treasurer of the Law Society, conferred the degree of barrister-at-law upon the Governor-General.

This afternoon the Governor-General sat as a guest in the Appellate Division.

Governor Orders Witness Against Hauptmann Held

State Police Ordered to Take Millard Whited Into Custody for Questioning On Story He Told At Kidnapping Trial—Clergyman Starts Campaign to Save Bruno

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP).—The New York American says in a dispatch from Trenton, N.J., that Governor Harold G. Hoffman has ordered state police to take into custody for questioning Millard Whited, one of the witnesses at the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann a year ago.

Whited is the Sourland Mountain woodman who testified that twice during the month prior to the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby he had seen Hauptmann near the Lindbergh estate.

PROBING TESTIMONY

TRENTON, N.J., Feb. 21 (AP). — One of the state's chief witnesses at Bruno Richard Hauptmann's trial will be taken into custody by state police tomorrow and questioned by Governor Harold G. Hoffman and prosecution and defence attorneys, a reliable source said today.

The testimony offered by the witness at Flemington will furnish the basis for the interrogation, the source said.

The order to bring the witness to the Governor was directed to Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police, shortly after a conference in the Governor's office attended by Anthony M. Hauck, Jr., prosecutor of Hunterdon County, where Hauptmann was convicted of the Lindbergh baby slaying, and C. Lloyd Fisher, chief defence counsel.

CLERGYMAN'S EFFORT

A one-man national campaign to rally the Lutheran ministry to the support of the Government had been started by Hauptmann's spiritual adviser, Rev. John Matthiesen.

Hauptmann is under sentence to walk to the electric chair the week of March 30. Unless the Governor intervenes again it is unlikely he will be alive at the end of the week.

There was immediate reaction to Mr. Matthiesen's appeal in New York, where Dr. Frederick H. Kneubel, president of the United Lutheran Church in America, said the Trenton clergyman's actions were taken "on his own responsibility without any approval from any authority in the Lutheran Church."

Forty-Five Cars Are Derailed In New Brunswick

MONCTON, Feb. 21 (CP).—Forty-five cars of a Canadian National Railway freight train were reported derailed tonight at Mile Seventy-Three on the transcontinental line through Central New Brunswick. First reports reaching regional headquarters here stated there were no injuries. The engine remained on the rails. A wrecking train steamed out of Moncton for the scene of the accident.

BABY DIES FROM COLD IN KITCHEN

Left There Overnight to Keep Warm Falls Victim to Exceptional Weather

NELSON, Feb. 21 (CP).—A victim of the past week's cold weather, the six-weeks' old baby of Victor and Elizabeth Simpkins, of Grand Forks, B.C., was found dead in the child's buggy on Sunday morning, it was revealed today.

Dr. W. Truax, district coroner, announced that the baby died from cold and that no inquest would be necessary.

Mrs. Simpkins placed the young child in the baby buggy near a stove in the kitchen, believing that the kitchen would be the warmest room in the house, she told police. Before they retired Mr. Simpkins built up the fire.

At 7 a.m. Mr. Simpkins, upon the request of his wife, went to get the baby in the kitchen only to find it dead.

GOVERNMENT TO DECIDE

Adjourned Session or Two Sessions Is Perplexity For Members

Members of the British Columbia Legislature may draw only one sessional indemnity this year, or two. The decision rests with the Government, with precedent either for proroguing the third session and summoning a fourth in the Fall, or merely adjourning the third session until Fall, unprorogued. A brand-new session would cost the Province close to $100,000.

Under the British Columbia Constitutional Act, the Government would have authority for either course. About twenty years ago, during the time of the soldiers' absentee vote in France, a session was adjourned and later reconvened. Later, about 1927, two separate sessions were called in the same year. Members are paid by the session.

TO PAY OR NOT

If the third session, to open on Tuesday, is adjourned, members will receive only one sessional indemnity. If, on the other hand, the House is prorogued by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, that will end the third session completely, and the Fall sitting will be a brand-new session, with fresh indemnities.

With two vacancies in the House sessional indemnities, mileage and legislative costs amount to $80,000 per session. Staffs in the House and lobbies add $6,155, and incidental costs $10,000 more, on the basis of current estimates.

The total appropriation for the session about to convene is $99,405, from which remains to be deducted two indemnities, at $1,600 each.

Legislative corridors buzzed yesterday with the prospect of two separate sessions, but without official word from the Government which course will eventually be chosen.

SARRAUT WINS FINE SUPPORT

French Premier Given Vote Of Confidence During Stormy Session

PARIS, Feb. 21 (CP-Havas).—Premier Sarraut tonight won a strong vote of confidence from a strong Chamber of Deputies by boldly identifying himself with the Radical-Socialist-Communist Peoples' Front.

The vote of 380 to 151 climaxed a tumultous session in which the Premier was wildly acclaimed by the Left and jeered by the Right. Bitter personal insults were exchanged and at one point a fist fight developed.

BLAME GOVERNMENT

Right wing deputies charged the Government with responsibility for the Leftists' anti-Royalists acts following last week's street assault by young Royalists on Leon Blum, Socialist leader.

The clamor reached such heights that deputies and newspapermen had to rush for copies of the official transcript to discover what had actually been said during the debate.

Premier Sarraut answered the Right wing blasts by declaring that the Peoples' Front represented the "awakening of conscious republican strength in France."

CHEER FOR PREMIER

By this time the Radical-Socialist, Socialist and Communist deputies were standing on their benches cheering the Premier.

Earlier in the day Phillipe Henriot, Rightist deputy, was slapped by Arthur Ramette, Communist.

Henriot later filed a formal complaint against Ramette, charging assault and battery. He said he disdained to duel with a "bum like Ramette."

Envoy Denies Accord Made With Berlin

PARIS, Feb. 21 (AP).—Existence of a secret military agreement between Germany and Japan was refuted today in official Japanese assurances to the French Government, highly authoritative sources reported.

Reports of the agreement had arisen from various sources but Ambassador Naotake Sato denied that such an agreement had been effected.

BEAUTIFICATION AID IS SOUGHT

Government Approached by City Council to Secure Help In Lieu of Taxes

Efforts to secure the Provincial Government's assistance in a general beautification scheme for the city of Victoria have been going on quietly, it was learned at the City Hall, yesterday, and it is understood that there is some reason to hope that the Government may give assistance.

Representation has been made to the Government through at least one Cabinet Minister by members of the City Council, and it was learned that the arguments presented received a sympathetic hearing.

It was pointed out to the Cabinet Minister that property owned by the Provincial Government in the city was assessed at $691,490 on land, and $2,837,040 on improvements. Both land and improvements are tax exempt, which means that the city loses in revenue annually approximately $88,000.

The aldermen pointed out that the Federal Government assists Ottawa in the beautification of the city in lieu of taxes. The same type of assistance was asked for Victoria, it was learned.

For nearly twenty years successive Governments have been approached on this matter, but this is the first time that any hope has been given.

ORDERED TO DISBAND

WARSAW, Feb. 2 (AP).—The National Democratic party of Upper Silesia was ordered disbanded today on charges of conducting anti-Semitic agitation.

KING TO SPEAK TO THE EMPIRE

Will Broadcast Message on March 1—Subject Not Yet Announced

LONDON, Feb. 21 (CP).—King Edward will broadcast a message to his subjects throughout the Empire on March 1, it was announced today.

No indication has been given as yet of the subject matter of the broadcast, and it is not known how long the message will be. It is expected to last about ten minutes, however. The broadcast will start at 4 p.m. (8 a.m., P.S.T.).

FIRST ROYAL BROADCASTER

It was recalled that His Majesty was the first member of the royal family to broadcast. That was in 1922, when, as Prince of Wales, he broadcast an address to the Boy Scouts. Apart from the late King, whose broadcasts on Christmas were listened to eagerly by people all over the world, few broadcasters have been so popular as King Edward. His delivery is unusually clear.

His broadcast appeal for the relief of distressed miners in 1928 produced £370,000 (about $1,850,000).

FOUND SHOT AT PORT ALBERNI

Edward J. Cronk, Prominent Island Man, Wounded by Bullet in Head

PORT ALBERNI, Feb 21—Edward J. Cronk, one of the most prominent residents of this district, was found shot late this afternoon in the Elks Memorial Hall.

He was removed to the West Coast Hospital, where late tonight every hope was held for his recovery.

Mr. Cronk, who is past Deputy Grand Exalted Ruled of the Elks, of Vancouver Island, was supervising repairs to the Elks Hall at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, and at 4:20 o'clock one of the workmen discovered him lying in the bathroom of the club.

Police and Dr. William Higgs were called, and Mr. Cronk was taken to the hospital, where it was found that a bullet had entered the right side of his head. A revolver was found close by.

Mr. Cronk is local manager of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, also president of the British Columbia School Trustees Association. He is most popular here and hope for his recovery is general.

Police will make no statement as to any theory on the shooting.

Guns Are Ready For Dog Poisoner

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 21 (AP).—Movie stars took up shotguns today to guard against a dog-poisoner whose work has taken the lives of thirty-three animals in the secluded Laurel Canyon residential district. In a "vigilante" committee formed to stand night watches were Ralph Forbes, Charlie "Chick" Chandler and John Carroll.

Nonagenarian Of Nanaimo Has Birthday

NANAIMO, Feb. 21 (CP).—In a little house on Haliburton Street, Mrs. Margaret Brown today celebrated her ninety-sixth birthday.

Born in Sandwich Parish, Shetland, February 21, 1840, she moved to Hamilton, Ont., where she married in 1865. The Browns arrived in Nanaimo in 1875 by way of San Francisco.

Today Mrs. Brown spends her time knitting Afghans and cushion covers. She was a maker of fine lace until her eyes became dim with years.

Suggests Plebiscite On Health Measure Before Step Taken

Prominent Member of Liberal Caucus Advises Government to Test Desire of Public Before Launching Into New Social Service Scheme

INDICATING his opinion was shared by many in the Liberal caucus, Gordon S. Wismer, Liberal member for Vancouver Centre, suggested a six months' stay to British Columbia state health insurance plans yesterday, with a general plebiscite to the electors this Summer to clarify public opinion on the issue.

"I am, not necessarily against a system of health insurance, but I am not yet satisfied as to the public's wishes in the matter," Mr. Wismer said during a call at the Legislative Buildings.

"On a question of such vital importance, affecting at least half of the population in direct fashion, both financially and in the treatment of disease, I feel that the public should have a right to decide whether or not it desires to embark on a health insurance programme," Mr. Wismer declared.

"We have precedents for consulting the public. We have referred liquor policy to the voters. I suggest, therefore, that before any final action is taken by the Legislature, a plebiscite be held. This would not involve any serious delay in the inauguration of health insurance if the public desires it," the member for Vancouver Centre added.

C.N.R. Steamer Is Damaged by Fire

HALIFAX, Feb. 21 (CP).—Fire of unknown origin broke out in the boiler room of the Canadian Highlander, of the Canadian National Steamships, as the freighter lay in drydock in the Halifax shipyards today, causing damage estimated at $10,000.

Firemen prevented the blaze from spreading to the vessel's oil tanks, as two fire tugs stood by, ready to tow her to an isolated section of the harbor.

Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie Unanimously Chosen President of Fair

Is Accorded Great Ovation—Ald. T. W. Hawkins Announces $7,000 Surplus Built Up From $2,000 Deficit—Lively Election Contest

HON. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, for fifty years an exhibitor at the Willows fair, was elected, unanimously, president of the British Columbia Agricultural Association at its annual meeting, held in the city council chamber last night. His election was greeted with a terrific ovation, and the applause continued until the former Minister of Agriculture in the Dominion Government and one-time Premier of this province, ascended the chairman's platform.

LIVELY CONTEST

There was a lively contest for the two vacancies on the directorate, W. T. Straith headed the poll with 163 votes, and Alderman T. W. Hawkins was runner-up with 155 votes. The votes of other candidates were as follows: Dave Nichol, 147; George E. MacDonald, 141, and Dr. D. McTavish, 31. The first two were elected.

Five vice-presidents were elected by acclamation, Frank Partridge, Commander C. H. R. Slingsby, Mrs. E. W. Darcus, Duncan D. McTavish and A. D. Paterson.

Alderman Hawkins, presenting his annual report, announced his retirement from the presidency and pointed out that the association during his three years of office had been placed in a sound financial position.

FINANCIAL RECOVERY

"When I took over office in 1932 I found it necessary, with W. H. Mearns, your secretary, to go to the bank and sign a personal note for $2,000 to cover expenses. At the end of 1932 we built up a surplus of $3,062. In 1933 the surplus was

FRANCE FEARING COLONIAL UNREST

Government Convening Committee Session to Prepare for Possible Trouble—Agitators Busy

PARIS, Feb. 21 (AP).—Fear that the Italo-Ethiopian War and disorders in Syria and Egypt are leading to unrest in France's African colonies caused the Government to convene a high Mediterranean committee session tomorrow to prepare for possible trouble.

The committee, composed of military and colonial chiefs, will meet under Premier Sarraut.

Native agitators are reported sowing dissatisfaction in Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia, by representing the Ethiopian, Egyptian and Syrian troubles as attacks of white Christians against Moslems.

Rearming of Reich Is Not Directed Against Britain in His Belief

Lord Londonderry Impressed With Germans' Strong Desire for Friendship of Both Great Britain and France—Returns From Tour

LONDON, Feb. 21 (CP-Havas). — Lord Londonderry declared tonight he was convinced that Germany's rearmament was in "no sense directed against Britain." "It is her idea of the best way of maintaining her security," he added.

The former Secretary of State for Air has returned from a long tour about Germany, where he was impressed with the "very friendly feeling toward Britain and a strong desire for the friendship of France and Britain."

INTERESTING COLOR

Thus political observers found an interesting, if not official, touch of color put to the already-confused international picture. Recent developments in the naval conference have indicated that Britain favored including the Reich in all negotiations and such figures as Lloyd George and George Lansbury have asked the Government to modify its attitude towards Germany, particularly with regards to the post-war treaties, which they claim unfair.

Lord Londonderry was not on an official trip to Germany, but, as a prominent British peer who has held many governmental posts and last year was Lord Privy Seal in the Cabinet, he was accorded a warm welcome throughout the Reich.

INTERVIEWED HITLER

He had interviews with Adolf Hitler, Air Minister Goering, Propaganda Minister Goebbels and Joachim von Ribbentrop, Hitler's ambassador-at-large.

"I feel quite certain," he said today, "that Germany's development of her air force is due to her desire to have a force in keeping with her prestige as a great nation. She is also convinced it is necessary to her security. Germany wants our friendship and good will."

Bond Issue to Be Called In

VANCOUVER, Feb. 21 (CP).—A twenty-year $30,000 bond issue, floated by the Alma Mater Society of the University of British Columbia in 1928, will be called in April this year, twelve years before maturity, Sherwood Lett, solicitor for the society, announced today.

A 2 1-4 per cent premium will be paid on the capital sum. The bonds were issued by the students in order to finance the gymnasium building for the university.

STLYES FOR SISSIES

SEATTLE, Feb. 21 (CP).—Plucked eyebrows and permanent waves for men this Spring were decreed as stylish today by the National Beauty Congress. The men like it, said Ted Carrol, style consultant.

STORM IS NOW EN ROUTE HERE

Strong Winds, Rain and Sleet Forecast—Three Inches of Snow Falls

Strong winds or gales, east and south, with rain or sleet, was the weather bureau's forecast last night, and before midnight rain fell in the city, making the downtown streets slushy.

Three inches of snow and 4 of an inch of rain fell here yesterday, while the temperature went down to one degree below freezing point. The maximum for the day was 34 degrees.

An ocean storm, now centred off this coast, is causing milder weather on Vancouver Island.

The snowfall yesterday disrupted for a time telephone communication to Up-Island points, but during the night the service was resumed, after repairs had been effected.

HEAVY SNOW AT NANAIMO

NANAIMO, Feb. 21.—Winter reappeared Friday afternoon when eleven inches of snow fell in Nanaimo, and a heavier fall is reported in Upper Island districts. Little damage was done to telephone wires in this district by midnight Friday. The evening Victoria bus was one hour and a half late.

PREPARE FOR SIEGE

VANCOUVER, Feb. 21 (CP). — With four inches of snow already on the ground and no predictions for immediate relief, residents of the Lower British Columbia Mainland huddled about their fires tonight and prepared for another siege of Winter.

Although the snow brought relief from frigid temperatures, it also brought memories of the great storm of January, 1935, when Vancouver was isolated for almost a week and thousands of dollars of damage done.

E. B. Shearman, meteorologist, placed the high and low temperatures for the past twenty-four hours at 35.5 degrees and 32.8 degrees respectively. The thermometer was maintaining a steady 33 degrees tonight, he said, and predictions were for more snow with stationary temperatures.

COLD IN INTERIOR

From Interior British Columbia came reports of another sudden dive in temperatures.

Endako, in the Cariboo district, was the coldest spot reported in the province, with a reading of 45 below, while Quesnel, after three days of comparatively mild weather, reported a sudden drop to 37 degrees below.

Other Interior points reporting below-zero temperatures were Burns Lake, 35; 100-Mile House, 35; Wells, 40; Barkerville, 28, and Wingdam, 16 below, with a wind. Ashcroft reported 3 degrees below.

ITALY STRENGTHENS EFFORT FOR VICTORY

a new line to the foothills of the mountain range.

This new front runs from Mount Dabra Allat on the right flank, through Aderat in the centre and to Mount Garadsciam on the left flank. It includes the major towns of Buie and Aderat.

This correspondent watched the advance from an observatory at Adi Gul Negus along with the high command.

Today's ground is almost as historic as Amba Alaji. In 1895 the Italians were victorious over Ras Mangascia before they were massacred at Aduwa.

The Italians have announced the loss of one plane of 150 active during the past ten days. The motors of a bomber failed near Dessye and its crew were killed.

PROPOSALS TO LEAGUE

ROME, Feb. 22 (AP). — Emperor Haile Selassie, it was said in informed circles early today, has advanced proposals to the League of Nations for termination of the Italo-Ethiopian war.

The Emperor's plan, it was understood in these quarters, contemplates a League of Nations protectorate over Ethiopia.

In circles where Italian Government information generally is distributed, it had been denied on Wednesday that there was any possibility of peace negotiations as the result of an Italian victory in Northern Ethiopia.

Informed persons said, however, that the lack of official confirmation of the Emperor's reported move was due to the fact that his plan was said to have been submitted directly to the League.

NOT SPECIFIED

In quarters where the Emperor's reported move for peace was mentioned, it was not specified whether Haile Selassie would cede any territory or yield those parts of Ethiopia now occupied by Italian troops.

There was little belief in informed quarters here that Premier Mussolini would accept the Negus' reported plan.

Recent Fascist victories were regarded in these circles as a certain barrier to anything less than annexation of important Ethiopian areas.

Dispatches received here last night said General Rodolfo Graziani's air forces in Southern Ethiopia were bombing the remnants of the army of Desta Demtu at Nagalo, a point 225 miles southeast of Addis Ababa, with a population of several hundred.

A HAIL OF BOMBS

ADDIS ABABA, Feb. 21 (CP-Havas).—Hundreds of civilians have been killed, gassed or wounded in a hail of mustard gas and incendiary bombs rained by Italian bombing planes on Southwestern and Northern Ethiopian towns, the Government charged tonight.

Savage attacks were reportedly launched against Nagalo and Ghighner, about 160 miles southeast of Addis Ababa.

At Koram, in the Northern war zone, three non-combatants were reported killed and many houses destroyed in destructive raids on Monday and Tuesday.

TO DISCUSS SANCTION

GENEVA, Feb. 21 (AP).—Informed League of Nations sources reported tonight that March 2 has been advocated by the French and British Governments as the date for a meeting of the committee of eighteen, which will discuss an oil sanction against Italy.

The recent military victory of Italy in Northern Ethiopia caused reports that the sanctions committee may, after all, take or suggest some new coercive measures against Italy—either an oil embargo or, possibly, financial help for Ethiopia.

NEGOTIATING FOR LOAN

(Copyright, 1936, by Havas News Agency)

LONDON, Feb. 21 (CP).—Agents of Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia are negotiating with private British financial interests for a $30,000,000 loan, financial circles reported here tonight.

It also has been suggested in some quarters that the Government should grant a state loan to Ethiopia, if the projected League of Nations oil embargo against Italy is not put into effect. This question, it is understood, will be discussed by the Cabinet next week.

According to reports, $15,000,000 of the proposed private loan would be paid in cash in Addis Ababa, with the remaining $15,000,000 used in London to pay for war materials already purchased.

Missionary's Pay Is Insufficient

CALGARY, Feb. 21 (CP).—"It's a vicious circle like the song that goes 'round and 'round," Bishop L. Ralph Sherman told the twenty-sixth meeting of the synod of the Anglican Church, Calgary diocese, today, when discussing the question of obtaining "a living wage" for missionary clergy.

"Unless we get the money, we can't pay them," he said. "We are not paying our men anything like they are worth. We haven't got the money."

EXPLOSION ON SHIP KILLS DOCK WORKER

ROME, Feb. 22 (CP-Havas).—An explosion aboard the steamship Antonietta while she was being loaded at Naples early today killed one dock worker and seriously injured four others. The cargo was said to consist of "explosive materials."

Train Collision in Northern Ontario

A fireman was killed and five other trainmen injured when two C.N.R. freight trains crashed head-on at Capreol, Ont. Thirty cars were derailed and the line was blocked for hours. Pictures above show the tangled wreckage. Arrow in lower picture indicates where the body of J. P. Coughlin, of Capreol, was buried under debris.

SEEKS PLEBISCITE ON HEALTH MEASURE

GORDON S. WISMER, M.P.P.

MAY BE SOLUTION

Mr. Wismer is understood to have laid his suggestions previously before members of the Government. Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, who is piloting the health insurance measure for the Government, was in Vancouver and could not be reached for comment on the proposal.

Part of the Government's estimates have been prepared on the assumption that action will be taken this session, it was learned, but final Cabinet review of the scheme was still awaited.

The suggestion of a general plebiscite on health insurance, putting the onus for adoption or otherwise of the scheme on the public, has already been advanced in more than one quarter. Private members saw in the suggestion an opportunity for the Government and for the Legislature to secure public decision on an issue that, despite all efforts, has remained contentious.

HAS WEIGHT

Coming from Mr. Wismer, one of the senior members on the Government side from Vancouver, the suggestion for a six months' stay on the measure and a reference to the public by plebiscite may carry considerable weight, both in and outside of the Liberal caucus.

The suggestion followed submissions by an influential body of British Columbia industrialists this week, who called on the Government for a stay in health insurance plans, together with active measures by the Province to reduce taxation on lumber, mining and other industries.

The plebiscite proposal was seen as an added guarantee that Liberal supporters in the Legislature are not going to be hurried into acceptance of compulsory health plans, without clear indication that these plans will have general public support. Previous indication that there will be a Fall as well as a Spring session this year makes the Wismer plan practical from a legislative standpoint.

What the Government's action will be on the issue has yet to be ascertained. The actual terms of the new health bill have not yet been settled by the Cabinet and were personally under review by Premier Pattullo this week. The Premier was in Vancouver yesterday, where he addressed the Building and Industries Exchange, and could not be reached for comment on the Wismer plebiscite proposal.

Spanish Rioters Attack Churches

MADRID, Feb. 22 (AP). — Rioters attacked churches in three towns of Seville Province, in Southern Spain, early today as post-election disorders, in which twenty-seven persons had been killed, continued.

Rioters raided churches in the towns of Saucejo and Fuentes, Seville Province, burning images and furniture. At the town of Peneflor, demonstrators stormed a church and destroyed images and pews.

MANY CABINS SWEPT AWAY

Sacramento River on Rampage After Storm—Severe Flooding Is Feared

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21 (AP).—Turbulent waters of the Sacramento River toppled scores of miners' cabins from foundations near Redding tonight as the rapidly-rising watercourse threatened renewed destruction to valley areas.

The river was at its highest level since 1926 and observers said it was rising at the rate of four-fifths of a foot per hour. Heavy rains and mountain run-offs, they said, foreshadow possible unprecedented flood conditions.

Rain and snow swept down from the North Pacific Coast, blocking the Columbia River and adding new peril of floods at other California River points.

INUNDATION FEARED

Inundation of thousands of acres in the Sacramento Valley, near Solusa, was feared after a downpour farther north, which soaked Kennet with four inches of rain in twenty-four hours.

The Weather Bureau predicted the storm will extend over Southern California, where horse racing followers, gathered for the Santa Anita Handicap tomorrow, had hoped clearing skies marked the end of week-long showers.

Gale-lashed tides hammered the north coast and warnings for shipping were posted from Point Conception in California to Puget Sound.

ASK GRANT OF CITY COUNCIL

Central Exchange Submits Report on Activities When Seeking Support

Renewal of the city's grant to the Central Exchange was asked by that organization in a letter to the City Council, received by the city clerk yesterday.

The exchange was set up to avoid duplication of charity work in the city, and in its report to the council, the organization said it had handled 7,907 clearances during the year.

A total of 2,071 new cases were added to the exchange files, which brings the total number of registrations up to 15,571.

The city's grant amounts to $600. Other municipalities contribute to the expenses of the exchange which, in turn, provides Victoria and district welfare organizations with information on those receiving assistance.

SAYS ALARM IS NEEDLESS

"After discussion with officers of the legion, it may be possible to iron out these difficulties. It will be found that with the exception of the decrease in pay and allowances I have pointed out, the order in council does nothing more than clarify and carry out existing regulations."

GIVES EXAMPLES

The Minister cited that under the old system a private soldier with a wife and six children received $147 a month, while, if single, his compensation was $45. That remained unchanged by the new order in council. An unmarried colonel received $228 a month, under the old rate; after March 1, he will receive $127. If he had six children, he formerly was paid $228; under the new rate the compensation will be $219.

Some adjustments might be made for persons who had been in hospital for a considerable time in order to offset hardships that might arise through a sudden or drastic cut in rate of pay.

The Minister emphasized that all other ranks, with the exception of private soldiers, would in no case receive less than if they were placed on 100 per cent disability pension.

Kidney Acids Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—lie awake and count sheep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and sleeplessness, headache, backache often follow. If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills—for half a century the favorite remedy. 103

MANY MUST VISIT JUDGE

Two Hundred Couples Not Legally Married Because Of Change in Alberta Law

EDMONTON, Feb. 21 (C.P.)—At least 200 couples in Alberta who were wed since April, 1935, are illegally married, was the startling revelation made in the Alberta Legislature today by Dr. W. W. Cross, Minister of Health.

When a section of the bill to amend the Solemnization of Marriage Act was debated in committee of the whole, Dr. Cross explained that the purpose was to give a judge of the Supreme Court power to issue an order stating that a marriage had been duly solemnized, even though it had been performed in contravention of the act.

LEGISLATION AMENDED

The act had been amended at the 1935 session of the House to provide new regulations concerning the publishing of banns of a marriage. It required the ministers to obtain the necessary bann forms from the Department of Vital Statistics for the purposes of registration, besides the necessary health certificate forms required last year for the first time.

"Some of the preachers published banns under the old regulation," said Hon. Dr. Cross. "People were married but they are not legally married, owing to the ministers not living up to the new regulations.

MAY GO BEFORE JUDGE

"Instead of making it necessary for those people to marry again, we are making it possible in this bill for them to go to a judge and obtain an order saying they are legally married," he said.

Rev. Roy Taylor (S.C.-Pincher Creek), declared churchmen never were notified of the change in regulations.

NEWSPAPERMEN TO MEET HERE

Thomas Miller and F. J. Workmen, of Moose Jaw, Precede Main Body

To attend a meeting of directors and Western news editors of the Canadian Press at the Empress Hotel on Monday, Thomas Miller and Fred J. Workman, managing editor and news editor, respectively, of The Moose Jaw Times-Herald, arrived in Victoria yesterday, accompanied by their wives.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller are staying with their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. McNiven, 2440 Beach Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Workman are registered at the Empress Hotel.

CONDITIONS BETTER

When seen at the hotel, last night, Mr. Workman said Saskatchewan was climbing back to a normal plain after suffering severly during recent years from adverse climatic conditions and the general economic depression.

The Province experienced an unusually heavy snowfall this year and the frost had gone far into the ground, which Mr. Workman explained, augured well for the year's wheat crop. He does not think the wheat fields this year will be subject to rust losses as was the case in 1935.

EXPECTED TODAY

Among the delegates to the meeting who are expected to arrive today are J. F. B. Livesay, Toronto, manager of the Canadian Press; C. A. Day, Toronto, treasurer of the Canadian Press; C. Forbes Rhude, Vancouver, acting Pacific superintendent of the Canadian Press; C. H. Wallace, managing editor of Edmonton Journal; C. F. Stout, managing editor of Calgary Herald; W. L. MacTavish, vice-president of The Winnipeg Tribune, and Mrs. MacTavish; David Smith, managing director of The Fort William Times-Journal; J. S. Woodward, managing director of Saskatoon Star-Phoenix and Mrs. Woodward; F. J. Turner, Winnipeg, Western superintendent of the Canadian Press; George Bell, Calgary Albertan; F. J. Burd, president of The Vancouver Province; M. E. Nichols, managing director of The Vancouver Province; Charles Shaw, news editor of The Vancouver Province, and Mrs. Shaw; George H. Sallans, editor of The Vancouver Sun; John Hickey, news editor, of The Vancouver Sun; R. E. Cromie, The Vancouver Sun, and O. Leigh Spencer, managing director of Calgary Herald.

LASHED FOR STEALING GEORGE'S CLOTHES

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Feb. 21 (A.P.)—Chester B. Goolrick, local historian, announced yesterday that in poring over old records he discovered that George Washington once had his clothes stolen while swimming in the Rappahannock River.

"We found records," he said, "that show two women were found guilty of stealing the clothes while he was swimming near his home. One turned State's witness and received a suspended sentence. The other got ten lashes."

HAROLD LLOYD IN NEW COMEDY FILM

Plays Role of Milkman in "The Milky Way"—Fight Sequence Is Hilarious

Because a milkman hero is a screen novelty, Harold Lloyd takes pride in his new comedy, Paramount's "The Milky Way," which opens today at the Capitol Theatre.

The spectacled comedian comes to his screen following as a timid fellow whose sole claim to fame is that he conscientiously delivers milk each morning. Unforeseen circumstances bring him into fistic notoriety when he ducks a blow in a brawl and takes credit for the freak knockout of the middleweight champion. A wily promoter corrals him and forces him to fight for the title, which he wins through ducking his opponent's blows.

Lloyd as a fighter is best described as a deft dancer. The nimble steps with which he evades the murderous onslaught of an infuriated pugilist would be the envy of any professional dancer.

The supporting cast of players consists of Adolph Menjou, Verree Teasdale, Helen Mack, William Gargan, Dorothy Wilson and George Barbier.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Don Alvarado, who plays one of the principal roles in the new Warner Brothers production, "I Live for Love," now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, has become one of the cartoon characters in "Tillie the Toiler," the popular comic strip by Russ Westover. Alvarado plays the role of a South American actor who can't act in "I Live for Love." He also is the jealous rival of Everett Marshall for the love of Dolores Del Rio.

COLUMBIA THEATRE The House of Morgan is not necessarily the counting house of the famous financier. Ralph Morgan, who is featured in the new Jack Holt film, "The Unwelcome Stranger," now at the Columbia Theatre, and his brother, Frank, have made their own family name one to be reckoned with.

DOMINION THEATRE The weather man disclosed his fine Spanish hand during the filming of Paramount's brilliant musical romance, "Rose of the Rancho," which is laid in the days of the Spanish Dons in Southern California and which is now at the Dominion Theatre. At times during production of the film, which co-stars John Boles and Gladys Swarthout, the mercury reached 120 degress in the shade, and the company used more than a ton of ice each day.

LITTLE ORPHEUM THEATRE Not even a fractured ankle could keep Joan London, daughter of the late Jack London, away from the 20th Century Studios to watch the launching of Darryl Zanuck's filmization of her father's greatest novel, "Call of the Wild," now at the Little Orpheum Theatre with Clark Gable, Loretta Young and Jack Oakie interpreting the chief characters. Joan said that Clark would have been her father's choice for the hero of his classic tale.

ROMILLY SINGERS AT CHURCH TODAY

Boys' Choral Group to Appear in Afternoon and Evening Recitals Here

Citizens of Victoria will have the last opportunity of hearing the famous Romilly Boy Singers, who are to appear today in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church (at Quadra Street and Pandora Avenue) in matinee and evening concerts. Entirely different programmes will be given at both performances.

The music critic of The Evening Telegram, St. John's, Newfoundland, writes, under date of November 6: "The Romilly Boys consist of twelve choir boys, who have been chosen from the best and grouped together in a concerted effort, which produced the best results. The solos and duets showed up in detail the rare gift of artistry in boys whose ages ranged from ten to fourteen. Master Billy Melvin, among the soloists, possesses a style and finish seldom found in a boy of his age."

JOHN GOSS SINGERS HAVE GREAT VOICES

John Goss and his London Singers are coming to Victoria. They will give one of their unique programmes of songs, classic and otherwise, at the Empire Theatre on Monday, March 2.

John Goss, leader of the little band, is a full, rich baritone of fine lyric quality. In the concerted numbers he is joined by as splendid a quartette of male singers as one could find, and then are heard those priceless gems of Elizabeth madrigals and folk-songs, rounds and catches which made of England the "nest of singing birds," reported by a traveler of the early eighteenth century.

But that which gives uniqueness to the programmes of these London Singers is their singing of old sea shanties. Here is something distinctly new, also something of a surprise, for despite their humble origin, these songs of the sea constitute an art in themselves.

BOY SOPRANO WILL SING HERE MARCH 6

Master Dewi Jones, famous Welsh boy soprano, will be heard at the Metropolitan United Church on Friday, March 6, under the auspices of the Metropolitan Church Choir.

Dewi Jones was born in Pontadulas, South Wales, and made his first public appearance at the age of three; when seven, he was engaged by the Welsh Easter Festival to sing to an audience of over 7,000 persons.

Dewi has given recitals in the larger cities of Canada and the United States. While in New York, he sang as guest soloist with Paul Whiteman over the N.B.C. network.

He—Darling, you are the most beautiful girl in the world; the most divine; the most adorable; the most wonderful, charming creature ever made; you are superb; you are exquisite; you are marvelous; I love you; I can't live without you. Will you marry me?

She—Who, me?

San Carlo Opera Group to Appear At End of March

THE San Carlo Opera Company will appear in Victoria at the Royal Victoria Theatre on March 30 and 31, it was announced last night by Clifford Denham, manager of the Dominion Theatre. The operas to be presented will be announced later.

B.C. LUMBER EXPORT FAIR

Gains Recorded in January Shipments to United Kingdom and Atlantic

British Columbia's lumber industries opened the new year with January gains in export water shipments of wood and products to the United Kingdom, Africa, and the Atlantic seaboard, compared with the corresponding month last year. Total exports for the month by water were approximately 70,000,000 board feet, compared with 66,000,000 board feet in January, 1935, Provincial figures disclosed yesterday.

British Columbia operators shipped 67,000,000 board feet of a total of 114,000,000 board feet dispatched from the Pacific Northwest in the period to offshore destinations.

WHERE CARGOES WENT

The United Kingdom took 41,605,000 feet, compared with 33,000,000 in the same month last year. China, with 8,946,000 feet; Australia, 5,908,000 feet; Africa, 4,058,000 feet; Central America, 2,135,000 feet; and West Indies, 1,454,000 feet, were other substantial purchasers.

Continued strength in shipments to the Atlantic seaboard, compared with January, 1935, was recorded, shipments to that market being 1,433,000 feet last month, compared with 32,000 feet in the opening month of 1935. Continental shipments by water were 2,445,312 feet, compared with 1,928,848 feet in the corresponding period last year.

Sales to Japan continued depressed, shipments being 301,605 board feet, compared with relatively heavy orders at this time last year.

The lumber inspection figures are exclusive of rail shipments to Canadian and other points.

BUILDING TOUR IS BEING MADE

Full Insurance Coverage at More Cost May Be Result of Survey

Ten of the city's buildings have been inspected by the special committee appointed by the City Council to deal with the question of fire insurance on all civically-owned property.

To date the City Hall, Fire Hall, Market Building, City Yards, Aged Men's Home, Agricultural Buildings, Library, garbage wharf and police station have been inspected by the committee, which comprises Ald. T. W. Hawkins, Ald. Dr. J. D. Hunter and D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller.

In some cases it has been found that under the new valuation of city buildings, some of the places are covered by insurance for more than their value, while others are not insured enough.

It is expected that when the work is completed, the committee will be able to recommend that insurance be carried on all the buildings without increasing the cost, owing to the new replacement value placed on the buildings. There is even a possibility that the insurance may cost less than it does at the present time. In any event, the city will have more complete coverage than it has had in the past.

BUDGET DRAFT IS PREPARED

D. A. Macdonald Expects to Submit Second Book of Estimates in March

D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller and terasurer, is now engaged in making the second draft of the city's 1936 budget, which contains the figures upon which the City Council works in order to bring down appropriations.

It is expected that the comptroller will have the budget ready for presentation to the council by March 9. Most of the council committees have completed their budgets, with the exception of the parks board, which is expected to complete its appropriations by next Wednesday.

Little hope of assistance from the Provincial Government at the forthcoming session is anticipated by civic officials, who believe that the Spring session will be a short one, so that a Fall session can be called when it is known what assistance can be expected from the Ottawa Government.

This may mean that the city will have to include many items in its 1936 budget which it otherwise could have deleted if help were coming to the municipalities from the Provincial Government, due to assistance given the latter by the Federal Government.

ANCIENT RITUAL PERFORMED HERE

Karmi, Wife of Kartar Singh, Cremated on Pyre at Royal Oak Burial Park

With the traditional rites of East Indians, the remains of Karmi, wife of Kartar Singh, were cremated in Royal Oak Burial Park Thursday afternoon.

Following the usual custom, the body was placed on a funeral pyre, surrounded by fellow countrymen and women, garbed in a white shroud and burned. The pyre was made of sticks of eordwood saturated with oil. At the appointed time, the pyre was lighted by Bhag, thirteen-year-old son of the late Karmi.

The ceremony was conducted by Kabul Singh, elder of the Hindu colony here. He recited prayers from the Granth, the Sikh Bible.

Following the ceremony at the cemetery, the gathering proceeded to the temple at the foot of Smith's Hill, where post-cremation services were held.

Hon. John McLean Called by Death

SOURIS, P.E.I., Feb. 21 (C.P.)—Hon. John McLean died at his home here yesterday, following an illness that caused him to retire from Canada's Senate last July. He was eighty-nine years old. At the time of his retirement he was the oldest member of the Senate.

From a story: "And on and on she chattered, while I tried to listen politely with one ear and think about my husband's dinner with the other."

HOME WORK

The controversy concerning home work has reached the British House of Commons, and the House has adopted a resolution upon the matter. The resolution, however, does not go very far. It simply affirms that it is undesirable that school children should have their evenings occupied with home work to the exclusion of rest and recreation, and suggests that, wherever practicable, preparation on school premises should be substituted for home work. The most enthusiastic supporter of home work that ever lived would heartily agree that home work should not be allowed to occupy the evenings of the children "to the exclusion of rest and recreation," and certainly that, "wherever practicable," the children should prepare their lessons at school rather than at home.

It is understood that one of the Members, a former headmaster, tested the House with a problem in arithmetic. Several of the gentlemen tried it and failed. The dispatches do not attempt to point out the connection between the arithmetical abilities of the legislators and the problem of home work, and up to the present time no one has come forward to explain its bearing, if any, upon the problem.

The home work controversy has also reached Winnipeg. The chairman of the School Board of that city wants the whole problem "fully investigated." He says that one of his own children was given work for home study one evening that could not have been done by the child in less than five and one-half hours. An enterprising press reporter interviewed several of the older school principals on the subject and elicited some valuable evidence. One said that in many years' experience he had never had a parent say that a child had too much home work. Another said that his experience proved conclusively that students who neglect home work invariably fail to make satisfactory progress, and either drop out of school or fail to secure regular promotion. A third said that where he had one complaint of too much home work he had twenty requests for more. A fourth mentioned the interesting fact that some fathers and mothers of pupils in the baby rooms were agitating for home work for their offspring. One principal declared with emphasis that home work is not an invention of the teachers, but an invention of the parents. There seems to be general agreement among the principals interviewed that the time required for home work should be "reasonable," and by reasonable they mean from one to two hours per evening, according to age.

An interesting question emerges. Who, then, is responsible for the demand for the abolition of home work? It would not be surprising, indeed, if the demand came from the teachers in view of the fact that the task of examining and correcting home work is a very heavy and exacting one, but the evidence seems to be that the teachers, even if they are not enthusiastically in favor of the practice, are nevertheless of opinion that an hour or two of home work is "reasonable." Apparently parents generally are not demanding its abolition. Where, then, does the demand come from? Is the agitation simply another expression of that curious mentality that believes that in the realm of education, as in the realm of economics, it is possible to get something for nothing?

DEGRADED BY COMPULSION

Thirty years ago, Hon. Auberon Herbert, son of the third Earl of Carnarvon, foresaw a condition to which the world has developed today in the many systems of State force which are being applied. He foresaw that this condition would render the true and happy life of nations impossible and would turn the same nations into coteries of internal enemies, conspiring against and dreading each other. He was persuaded then, as so many are being persuaded now by experience, that it is impossible to take from men and women their inalienable rights over themselves without suffering the consequences. In other words, it is not a change in the mere form without a change in the spirit that can make a new world.

Mr. Herbert gave his views in connection with his delivery of the Herbert Spencer Lecture. It was in the main a plea against the extension of power exercised by governments. He pointed out that if the power of some and the subjection of others are right, then Socialists, perhaps even Anarchists, "would find their own justification, and we should live in a world of perpetual warfare. To those of us who believe in the soul, it seems that life here should be so lived that we may learn to distinguish and choose between good and evil, and thus find our way towards perfection. We cannot, therefore, make men politically subject without injuring their souls. Either the religious conscience and sense of right must stand first, and the commands of government second, or the State machine must stand first, and the religious and moral conscience of men must follow."

Mr. Herbert believed that to place unlimited power in the hands of the State is to degrade men, to narrow the intelligence, to encourage intolerance, contempt, bitter strife and the evil arts of flattery. The exercise of that power involves self-abasement to conciliate votes, and the repression of those healthy differences that make the life of a nation. Moreover, the exercise of that power in transferring the right of the individual to the State means the piling up of intolerable burdens of debt, the mean endeavor to place the heaviest of these burdens on others, the insolence of those who spend money compulsorily taken, the deep poisonous corruption . . . already sporadically existing among us; and at the end of it all the setting up of some absolute form of government, to which men fly in despair."

Those who favor compulsory health insurance and other forms of compulsion should pay heed to these words of Mr. Herbert. He said: "There are few greater injuries that can be inflicted upon us than taking out of our hands the great services that supply our wants. Why? Because the healing virtue that belongs to all these great services lies in the winning of these things for ourselves by our own exertions, skill, courage, friendly co-operation, integrity and self-reliance. The more of his ready-made institutions the politician thrusts upon us, the more incapable we become, just because the great mental and moral qualities are not exercised. Refuse, then, to put your faith in machinery, in organizations, in Acts of Parliament, in unwieldy systems, which treat good and bad, the careful and the careless, on the same plane, and which, on account of their vast size and complexity, pass entirely out of your control."

"The great choice," said Mr. Herbert, "lies before us. Either the State must grow in power, imposing new burdens and compulsions, and the nation sink lower into a helpless quarrelling crowd, or the individual must gain his own rightful freedom, become master of himself, creature of none, confident in himself and in his own qualities, confident in his own power to plan and to do, and determined to end this profitless and worn-out system of restrictions and compulsions, which is not good and healthy even for children."

THE VIMY MEMORIAL

There is a piece of Canada in France and a visit will be paid to it during the coming Summer by some thousands of ex-service men from this country. It is the Vimy Memorial, set on Vimy Ridge, a name imperishable in the war history of this Dominion. It stands in 240 acres of land, given by the French Government to the Canadian people. The memorial has been finished, the scaffolding will be removed, and the official unveiling will take place in July next. The monument, probably the greatest of its kind ever constructed, has taken twelve years to sculpture and build. It is built of the same stone which 1,700 years ago was used to build a palace for Diocletian, brought from a quarry near Spalato. The sculptor was Mr. Walter Allward. The actual memorial consists of two great piyons which rise to a height of 140 feet. They bear heroic figures symbolizing Justice, Truth, Knowledge and Peace. Between these pylons there is a sculptured group representing the Spirit of Sacrifice passing the torch to a comrade. About the monument there is a massive stone platform and enclosure. On the walls of the monument the names of 11,500 Canadian soldiers "who have no known grave" are to be carved. What a pity it is that Mr. Rudyard Kipling did not live to write an inscription for the memorial, no one could have done it better.

Oh! Time, inestimable treasure, none
Thy value know, or prize till thou are gone;
Youth wastes thy brightest hours in idle dreams,
Basking too long in pleasure's sunny beams.
And Manhood, careless of thy hastening flight,
Oft seeks in sinful haunts a false delight,
Till Age, admonish'd by its wither'd bloom,
Sighs o'er thy loss, and sinks into the tomb.

Unfathomable sea! Where waves are years,
Ocean of Time, whose waters of deep woe
Are brackish with the salt of human tears,
Thou shoreless flood, which in thy ebb and flow,
Claspeth the limits of mortality!
And sick of prey, yet howling on for more;
Vomitest thy wrecks on its inhospitable shore,
Treacherous in calm, and terrible in storm,
Who shall put forth on thee,
Unfathomable sea?

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Shall I ask the brave soldier, who fights by my side
In the cause of mankind, if our creeds agree?
—Moore

We were asked last night if we did not feel lonely now that Gerry had gone away. Of course there is only one Gerry, and he is Mr. Gerald Grattan McGreer. If there is a silence that can be felt here in the absence of Gerry, we replied, there will be a commotion elsewhere whose emotional waves will spread to all parts of Canada. Our friend Gerry has been denied a seat in the House of Commons in company with the political intellectuals, such as Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King and Hon. Ian Mackenzie, but there is reported to have been another leader who settled a question of precedence by dropping into the most convenient chair and declaring that wherever McTosh sits, that is the head of the table. So wherever McGeer sits, that is the centre of influence.

* * *

We are not Irish (possibly worse luck), but we admire the Irish for their pugnacity and their independence. The object in the life of every fighting Milesian is to hit a head whenever and wherever he sees it. Mr. McGeer is independent. He is a born fighting man, and he already has been hitting heads, some of them big heads. We shall admire him all the more if he continues to hit heads, some of them swollen heads which owe their distended dimensions to the results of the late general election. We name no names. Readers can form their own conclusions as to whom the cap fits.

* * *

If readers are as deeply interested in the science of government—an imposing name for politics—as they should be, they will have noted one of the singular results of the election. That is the number of political parties in the new house. Apart from the two principal parties, there are so many other parties that their number can hardly be accurately computed. But there are two outstanding parties. There is the party of Mr. McGeer, which is Gerry himself, and there is the party of Hon. H. H. Stevens, which is Harry all alone. Both of these eminent men represent constituencies of British Columbia. Two leaders without followers. Of course we know that Mr. McGeer was elected to support Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, but we fear the Liberal whip will have some job on his hands if he undertakes to lash Gerry into the party caucus or the party line-up when there is what they call a division in the House.

* * *

One of the poets has sung about the glorious privilege of being independent. Independence provides glorious opportunities as well as glorious privileges. As an independent whose independence is a trifle different from the independence of Mr. A. W. Neill, who also represents a British Columbia constituency, Mr. McGeer seized an opportunity during his maiden speech of striking a verbal blow in the interests of his native province. British Columbia is a maritime province, the most important maritime province in Canada. One of the most vitally important industries of British Columbia is the shipping industry, because through it the trade and commerce of the greatest of the world waterways lives and moves and has its being. Every big nation of the world is subsidizing and increasingly subsidizing its mercantile marine. Even Great Britain has been driven into that by the actions of other nations. The Prime Minister of Canada has said, and all his political supporters have joined in saying it, that "Canada cannot live unto herself alone," that her prosperity is contingent upon the development of her trade and commerce with foreign nations.

* * *

In the face of those statements the King Government purposes reducing the subsidies which hitherto have been paid to shipping companies operating on various trade routes. Mr. Euler is the minister responsible for what he calls this measure of economy. He says there must be general measures of economy in order that in course of an indefinite time the budget may be balanced. Mr. Euler charged Mr. McGeer with indulging in "heroics" when he challenged the policy of the Government. Gerry may not always be right when he fights, but for at least once he was right when he fought alone, with no one to stand on either hand (where were Mr. Mackenzie and Mr. Stevens?) and defended the interests of the province. Is the budget going to be balanced in two years, or in two hundred years, by saving a few thousand dollars in shipping subsidies when the Government is paying a million dollars a week in a railway subsidy and purposes bonusing the farmers to the tune of six million dollars for wheat which was not sold, and if not sold must still be in the elevators. Was it an explosion of heroics to point out that the Government is saving a few grains with one hand and scattering lavishly abroad with the other? Credit to whom credit is due. Thus far in his Federal parliamentary course all the credit is to Gerry.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of February 22, 1886)

Football Match—Last Saturday afternoon a match was played on Beacon Hill between the Victoria F.C. and representatives of H.M.S. Triumph, which resulted in a win for Victoria by two goals and two tries to nil. The game was well contested throughout, but the Victorians proved to be the fleeter of the two. For Victoria, Martin and Ward, of the backs, were in capital form, while forward, A. Bressley and the Harveys worked well. Drake distinguished himself by his excellent goal kicking. For the Fleet, Fisher, Grafton, Prich and Tolmie were outstanding.

Train Service—The fact that trains are again running regularly and that there will be no stoppage to freight or passenger traffic on the Canadian Pacific Railway is regarded with general satisfaction. The difficulties attending the operation of the road during the rainy weather were many, and it is due to excellent management that so small a train service as that necessary should be so well done.

The Dockyard—A permanent shed for the two torpedo boats that are now hauled up on a temporary measure at Rosebank is being constructed. Ways are being laid down and machinery fitted for hauling up and launching these boats as required.

AMMENDMENT TO HIGHWAY ACT

Sir,—By the old scheme a truck that was oversize or overweight had to carry P.W.D. plates for which $2 was paid and the owner of the truck had to lodge with the P.W.D. from $25 to $100, as a guarantee for any damage to the roads that the vehicle might make. Even under this plan it was noticed that trucks belonging to certain companies, although the trucks were obviously overweight or oversize, did not carry these plates.

In June, 1935, truck owners were notified that this system had come to an end, and they were informed that a copy of the new act should be obtained, together with application forms for the new licences.

Dealing with two of these, one white for operators who contend they convey only their own goods on the trucks, and termed "private freight vehicles," and the other yellow, for operators who, although a great deal of their freight might be owned by them, also hauled for other people, and are known as limited freight vehicles. Upon reference to the schedule of fees, on Page 10 of the act, it will be seen that the operator who claims he hauls for himself only, pays $5 a year application fee and nothing more, whereas the unfortunate limited freight operator has to pay $18 application fee and $8 per ton annually for any maximum load that he may carry during the year. That is, he has to pay $8 by $6 plus $18, which equals $66, if he wishes to carry a maximum load of six tons, whereas the private freight carriers can carry the maximum allowed for his type of tire, say ten tons, all for $5 a year. Not only that, but the private freight carriers are compelled to insure for public liability and third party, adding about another $50 per annum to their expenses. Is it to be wondered at, if in view of this punishing taxation, operators send in the white application form while fully intending, as they must in order to make a living, to haul any load that offers, knowing full well that, except in certain cases, it is impossible to tell to whom the load belongs.

Not content with this, limited freight carriers are directed to charge only on a fixed scale, which will be supplied to them later.

PLEA FOR UNEMPLOYED

Sir,—Seeing that the contracts for the Naval Buildings at Esquimalt have been finally granted it is to be hoped that the contractors will not entirely overlook the men at Macauley Point Relief Camp. Many of these men are fully qualified carpenters, electricians and laborers, and would welcome the opportunity to work. Among them are a number of local and ex-service men, who are not afraid of a hard day's work.

It is to be hoped that the contractors will at least give these men a chance and not consider them as outcasts simply because circumstances forced them into camp.

SOCIAL CREDIT IN ALBERTA

Sir,—In your editorial of February 16, you quote from The Financial Times, the view of Professor Michell, of the faculty of political economy at McMaster University, of Hamilton, Ontario, regarding Social Credit in Alberta, which he characterizes as a "deplorable scheme," "deeply disquieting" and "likely to be disastrous if introduced."

Writing articles for financial papers, assisting bank presidents in the preparation of their annual reports, lecturing on the benefits of "Sound Finance," is part of the orthodox routine for university professors of economics. If they acted otherwise, there would very soon be a vacancy for another professor.

The views of all university professors are excellent, for just so long as they will permit other people to think independently and to thing differently.

A great number of our legislators and citizens in Canada are still ignorant as to what Social Credit stands for, but Alberta is fortunate in having in Premier Aberhart a man who knows that "money" is a costless creation and can be made out of anything. Mr. Aberhart knows also that Government expenditure can be financed without borrowing, by adopting the principle of national money or communal control of credit.

Naturally our financial monopolists who create the compulsory tokens in which business compulsorily registers its transactions, and who have evolved a debt-creating system which has as an arithmetic certainty the inevitable bankruptcy of any Government using this system, do not like Social Credit, and will do all in their power to destroy its effectual working.

As long as society submits to the private monopoly of finance; as long as business agrees to the compulsion of accepting the financial tokens issued by these monopolists; As long as our legislators pay deference to incitements to follow "sound finance," as explained by bank presidents and university professors of economics; and if I may add, as long as our citizens continue to allow their thinking on finance to be done for them by biased individuals, just so long will our social life, commerce, governments and people be fettered by unpayable debts and unpurchasable production.

DOMINION DRAMA FESTIVAL

Sir, — I was most interested in reading P.B.V.'s criticism of the recent drama festival in Thursday's Colonist, as the writer says it was a most mediocre performance this year, and small wonder the adjudicator made no mention of Victoria in his Vancouver adjudication.

The winning play in Vancouver was a slice of real life, which no doubt would have shocked our ultra refined Victorians, who chose such highly improbable, far-fetched plays as "Boccaccios Unwritten Story."

This same play was produced in Calgary, and called forth even more trenchant criticism from the adjudicator than in Victoria. He "was surprised at university students wasting time on it."

Mr. Wade was the adjudicator in the finals at Ottawa last year, and awarded first place to a Russian Socialist play and that, combined with a Socialist play, winning in Vancouver this year proves that he prefers plays dealing with problems of the times.

Have we no local playwrights capable of taking up this issue. I should like to make three suggestions to the drama committee.

1. That local playwrights be given preference; failing that, at least Canadian playwrights.

2. That all the small groups unite under the capable guidance of Mrs. Reese Burns, who, as one writer says, "was the only director able to get her play on in time."

3. That the chairman's speech be left to the last, giving all the time possible to the adjudication.

STATE HEALTH INSURANCE

Sir,—That the idea is splendid no one will deny, but to be played with by provincial politicians and their too-many helpers, at the expense of the majority of the taxpayers is a wrong. This scheme could and should be run by the Dominion Government in the same businesslike manner as the Postal Service, with the same severe penalties for misappropriation of funds or neglect of duty as is employed by that service. Public funds, particularly such as health insurance, need to be handled as sacred trusts, not used for party politics, but in such a way that the taxpayer is assured of getting full value for money paid when he is in need.

As now proposed, the taxpayer would be fortunate to get one-half of the value paid for the other going to pay for inefficient administration. Store clerks and such, who are the ones to be taxed, usually belong to a sick benefit society of their own, paying from 50 cents to $1.25 per month (much less than that of the proposed tax) with prompt, efficient attention given without the fuss, annoyance and delay of going before a board of incompetent busybodies; and these societies can show a fine surplus of funds.

On the face of it, this appears to be a fine scheme to give employment to a number of members of an overcrowded profession at the expense of the taxpayer. The U.B.C., helped by a grant of the taxpayers' money, continues to turn them out, and the poorer working man, being the easiest to get taxes from, is to be compelled, along with his other responsibilities, to take care of them. That the scheme, as proposed, is humanitarian we do not doubt; many many would benefit, and none but the poor to have the privilege of paying for it.

WORDS OF COMMENDATION

Sir,—I wonder if you could find space in your correspondence column for a few words of commendation.

I guess about 90 per cent of your male readers over a certain age do as I do daily when reading The Colonist—first turn to page four and read the correspondence column, by looking at the signatures beneath the letters before reading them; then a hasty glance at the editorials; then R.B.D. (this morning's reference to Joe Murphy, the celebrated Irish comedian, brings back Toronto memories of ten-cent seats in the "upper balcony" to see Joe and his artists perform in "Kerry Gow" and "Thougraun"); then to read the Observation Car. This column is always interesting, particularly the paragraphs by a gentleman whose signature is "S. G." His philosophical observations are of great value. Am I right in picturing him as of medium height, dark, slightly bald, pleasantly stout, bespectacled and, possibly the only member of our local journalists not addicted to eating three meals a day of coffee and doughnuts (a la movie journalists)?

Jottings From Oak Bay

For the first time in many years three invaders reached the semis of the men's trophy event in the Empress mid-Winter tournament at the Oak Bay links. However, just who is going to win is a problem, for anything can happen in these handicap meets. The medalist, Mrs. A. S. G. Musgrave, faded from the title running when she bowed to Mrs. W. N. Sheffield at the nineteenth, Hal Straight, Sun scribe, and Stu Keate, Province, played a grudge match over nine holes and the latter finished five holes in front. After this they gave a demonstration of how the "rasslers" perform in Vancouver. Travers Coleman got into the match and they acted to perfection. Even Capt. J. V. Perks, secretary, got a laugh out of it. On the way to town the boys burst forth into song in Moriarity's chariot. "Morry" guided the car safely through the snow, despite vocal choruses of Straight, Keate and Coleman. The weatherman played with the boys Thursday with some rain and snow. Most of the competitors were finished playing, so they had one on "him." Campbell and Brynjolfson continued their smart golf and advanced with well-earned victories. J.D.

Striking Lesson in Thrift

This yarn was related to us by a woman who vouches for its veracity: In an Eastern city a girl earning a small wage was taken ill and ended up with a doctor's bill for $100 and nothing in the bank. She told the doctor she could not pay him. He asked her if she could give him $5 per month which she agreed to try to do. For twenty months she made her small payments without interruption. At the end of the period the doctor handed her a bank book showing deposits totaling $100, with these words: "Consider my bill paid. These savings are yours. See that you deposit $5 in the bank every month as long as you are working." The lesson in thrift did not go unheeded. . . . Our tobacconist friend rubbed the sleep from his eyes at 6:30 o'clock on a cold morning and tottered in slippers and dressing gown down to his automobile. He recollected that he had left it parked without a tail light facing the wrong way on the street. His heart missed a beat or two when he saw a small white ticket jammed under the windshield wiper. He had visions of a journey to the police court to leave a few dollars. Examining the ticket closely with his sleep-dimmed eyes, he found it was an invitation to attend a revival meeting.—G.B.

No Pennies Then

In renovating the New England Cafe, which is the pioneer restaurant of the Coast, the new proprietors this week discovered an old menu card of more than ordinary interest. It was printed on the Standard press in May, 1872. In those days nickels and dimes were unknown, and the prices were set on the recognized "bit"—or 12½ cents. The old card bears the legend, "New England Bakery, Ladies' and Gents' Dining and Oyster Saloon." The address given was "79 to 81 Government Street," although the present number is 1312, but in the original numbering of the streets the markings were from Fort Victoria. The New England is on the original site of the bakery and cafe, which started business in 1858. The prices included a "bit" for all vegetables. Beer by the glass was a "bit," and so was milk. Tea, coffee and chocolate were also listed at 12½ cents. Meals were 25 cents and 37½ cents—two and three "bits" a helping. It was cheap to eat in Victoria in those times for three servings of a "bit" order could be purchased for "two bits," or 25 cents.—B.A.M.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock, add 18.8 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Songhees drydock, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

Minister Hopes That Northern Port Will Handle Big Business

Cabinet to Consider Appeal of New Westminster Member Regarding Grain Freight Rates—May Have to Revive Canal Tolls

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (C.)—The House of Commons tonight ploughed further through the mass of estimates in which the Government asks money to run the country's business, heard hope expressed that the Port of Churchill may yet see 25,000,000 bushels of grain cleared annually, and noted a suggestion that the country might have to decide the wisdom of reviving canal tolls.

Railway Minister Howe promised Thomas Reid (Liberal, New Westminster) that the Cabinet would consider his appeal from a ruling of the Board of Railway Commissioners, which last year rejected his request for equalization of grain freight rates from the Midwest east to Fort William and west to the Pacific.

BELIEVES IN PORT

Discussion of an item calling for $217,500 to be spent on Churchill and the Hudson Bay railway brought from Mr. Howe the statement: "I hope to see the time when 25,000,000 bushels of grain move out of Churchill." He expressed belief that the port would develop naturally, and Hon. W. R. Motherwell, one-time Minister of Agriculture, recalled it had been about seven years before grain moved freely from Vancouver.

Mr. Howe, emphasizing that he was advocating no plan, said the time might come when Canada would have to consider the advisability of resuming the practice, discontinued during Sir Wilfrid Laurier's regime, of charging tolls to vessels using the country's canals.

IMPOSSIBLE COURSE

It was pointed out, however, that at present such a course would be impossible without revision of treaties with the United States and those countries enjoying most-favored-nation trade treatment.

During the day the House passed about $6,000,000 in agricultural, railway and canal estimates.

HAS HOPES FOR NEW BAY PORT

Hon. C. D. Howe Says Churchill Will Develop Naturally in Time

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (C.)—Belief that the port of Churchill would develop naturally over a period of time was expressed in the House of Commons tonight by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Railways, who, in his contracting days, had charge of erection of the grain elevator there.

Marine insurance rates on the Hudson Bay route would come down as use of the route increased and experience justified lower rates. A good deal depended on the freight rates on the Great Lakes, the competitive route, which were now depressed. When the lake shipping situation returned to normal, Mr. Howe predicted, the Churchill route would enjoy a considerable rate advantage from points in Northern Saskatchewan.

INSURANCE CHARGES

The Minister was replying to suggestions from Saskatchewan members that the Government assume the insurance on boats using the route itself, or subsidize ships by paying part of their insurance charges. He was not partial to that idea.

Insurance rates on the Hudson Bay route were about four times as high as on the St. Lawrence route, said Mr. Howe. A ship cargo sailing from Montreal to Europe paid $1,812.50, and from Churchill to Europe, $7,875.

ICEBREAKER AIDS

Mr. Howe said he had spent a good deal of time at Churchill and had talked to many captains of ships entering the port. They agreed it was ordinarily a safe route as Hudson Strait was wide and deep, and the danger of ice was slight owing to the service provided by the Government icebreaker, which kept tab on ice movements.

On the other hand it was an out-of-the-way route and little traveled. There was still doubt as to whether the steamer Bright Fan sank as a result of an accident or a plan. The latter sort of thing was much more likely to happen on the Hudson Bay route than on a more traveled seaway.

"There are some strange things about the Bright Fan," Mr. Howe remarked.

COST OF DEVELOPMENT

Answering a question from Dave Spence (Cons., Toronto-Parkdale), Mr. Howe said that the total cost of the Hudson Bay Railway and the port of Churchill to date was about $53,000,000. To another question from Conservative Leader Bennett he replied the operating loss on the railway, exclusive of interest charges, last year was $326,000.

Capital expenditures on the railway and the port were nearing an end, said Mr. Howe, as he asked the House to approve the estimate of $217,500 for capital outlay next year. It compares with $304,500 voted last year. Of the next year's estimate, $133,000 is for the port and $84,500 for the railway.

Mr. Bennett said the insurance underwriters still had a loss on the Bay route owing to the two ships which had met with accidents. The total insurance they had collected, even at the high rates, on all ships which had traveled the route so far, fell short of meeting the amount they had had to pay on the two claims.

SAYS FAMILIES ARE BANKRUPT

Alan Chambers Claims Unexpected Hospital Expenses Prove Disastrous

There is a widespread feeling that the present concentration of wealth in the hands of a few causes consequent lack of security for the masses. This calls for legislation aimed at alleviating the condition, Alan Chambers told members of Ward Three Liberal Association last evening in speaking on health insurance.

Mr. Chambers declared that 70 per cent of the middle-class families of Canada were bankrupted from periods of one to five years through unexpected hospital expenses. He believed the necessity for health insurance today was far greater than it had been during times when business was better. Employers who fought the measure overlooked the fact that time lost due to illness of employees during 1935 cost them $2,500,000, he added.

AIMS GIVEN

Health insurance aimed at providing health and medical services to those with small incomes and at assuring reasonable remuneration for medical practitioners and hospitals, Mr. Chambers asserted.

Benefits would include maternity care, general medical care, hospital services for three weeks and then 75 per cent of the cost up to a limited time, services of specialists as required, 75 per cent of the cost of drugs, medical and surgical supplies, laboratory services for various tests, limited home nursing service and limited dental service of a preventive nature, Mr. Chambers stated.

Heir Presumptive Is Man of Many Parts

Now that a new King helps to govern the destinies of the British Empire, the eyes of the world naturally turn to the heir to the Throne, a man who, to many, is an unknown quantity. By right of succession the Duke of York is heir presumptive and his children are next in line. Educated by private tutors, and a student at Osborne and Dartmouth Naval Colleges, the Duke of York is considered to be the walking encyclopedia of the Royal Family, but there is a side to his nature which is not so well known—his love of sports. Very few people know that a few years ago he appeared on the "dread" centre court at Wimbledon and played in the All-England lawn tennis championships, which alone is proof that his knowledge of the game is very advanced. At the top, right, we see His Royal Highness when he walked on the centre court for his match. Like his brother the King, the Duke is a good golfer, and also loves to ride horses to meets and races. He is a keen student of outdoor exercise, and in the lower right picture we see him at his boys' camp, taking movie pictures of the boys at play. Lower left shows the Duke of York when on a safari in East Africa.

FLAMES SWEEP NITRATE SHIP

One Fireman Killed During Dangerous Battle to Extinguish Fire

BALTIMORE, Feb. 21 (AP).—One fireman was killed and several were injured tonight by one of many explosions which occurred when flames swept the hold of a nitrate-laden ship at her dock here.

It was not until the ship was slowly sinking and already was awash amidships that firemen said the blaze was under control. Fireboats continued to pour streams of water into her.

The dead fireman was not identified immediately. He was blown into the ice-covered river from a pier by an explosion which sent his comrades reeling back against a warehouse.

BIG CARGO OF NITRATE

The ship, the Norwegian freighter Gisla, was loaded with more than 5,000 tons of nitrate.

Five alarms were sounded shortly after the steamship caught fire.

All the city's fireboats stood by and land apparatus was brought as close as possible in an attempt to save the ship and adjoining piers. An attempt to move the ship away from the dock by tugs failed.

Water was of little avail in halting the blaze. When water struck the nitrate, explosions followed in rapid order.

Ships at nearby piers were towed to safety by tugs.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know the real cause of piles in the inside?

Do you know they can be doctored from the inside?

Do you know you must get at and remove the cause of Piles, to get rid of them?

The real cause of piles is poor circulation—a congestion of blood in the veins of the lower bowel. This makes the veins flabby, full of impure congested blood, and weakens the rectal membranes.

So if you would have relief from piles you should use an internal medicine like HEM-ROID, a prescription written by Dr. J. S. Leonhardt. HEM-ROID banishes piles by relieving the cause. It stimulates circulation, eases the pressure of blood in the veins of the lower bowel and helps to heal and restore the sore, tender parts.

HEM-ROID is so successful in even the most stubborn cases that MacPherline and Vancouver Drug Stores, or any other good druggist is authorized to make good our promise to you that if you are not completely satisfied with the results from one bottle, you may have your money back. (Advt.)

RECORD MADE AT HOSPITAL

Jubilee Board Figures Disclose Maximum of 306 Patients

Hospitalization figures at the Jubilee Hospital have been unusually high during January and February this year, but the per diem record for all time was reached last Wednesday, February 19, with 306 patients.

This information was given out at the regular monthly board meeting last evening in conjunction with the customary statistical reports. The figures showed that work in all departments during January had much increased by comparison with the same month last year, the total days treatment being 8,874, an increase of 893 over January, 1935, when the total days treatment was 7,981, and the average number of patients per day being 286, an increase of twenty-nine over January last year, when the average was 257 per diem.

This increase has continued right up to the present time in all departments of the hospital, reaching the climax last Wednesday, as already noted.

RECEIVE RESIGNATION

The board received with regret the resignation of Miss C. McDiarmid, supervisor of the Pavilion Ward.

Letters of appreciation were read from many deeply grateful patients, one of the quoted passages from a letter being as follows: "Never before have I been accorded such thorough and courteous treatment."

Donations received during January were from the following: Jubilee Hospital Women's Auxiliary, the Kinsmen Club (annual subscription of $5), and bequest of $500.

Captain Hugh Allan was in the chair.

EXPERIENCING BETTER TIMES

Colonel Brooke Stephenson Tells of Business Conditions in East

Everything in Eastern Canada and the United States indicates a continuing change towards better times, said Lieut.-Col. Brooke Stephenson on his arrival home yesterday morning from a trip to the East. The trains between the various cities in the East were crowded to capacity, with passengers standing in the day coaches.

Colonel Stephenson made the trip East to attend the Council of the Defence Association, of which he is a member in his capacity of president of the Canadian Infantry Association. During the sittings of this body, representative of the various associations identified with the different branches of defence, conferences were attended by the new Minister of National Defence, Hon. Ian Mackenzie, and permanent members of the staff at Ottawa, when matters pertaining to the subject of defence were under discussion.

Colonel Stephenson spoke in high terms of the reception accorded the members of the council by the minister.

While in the East, visits were paid by Colonel Stephenson to his two brothers, who are located in Montreal and in New York. All the cities on both sides of the international line were evidently busy and conditions manifested a steady return to much better things.

The information he gleaned was that banks were loaded up with money awaiting investment. There was every indication on the part of the business sections to take advantage of anything which promised a reasonable return.

Colonel Stephenson is in the habit of making a trip East nearly every year, and he says that the present optimistic outlook is simply a continuation of the evidences during the past few seasons that better times were coming. Business appears now to realize that the time is not far distant when normal conditions may be expected to prevail.

SEATTLE SPEAKER MAY ADDRESS LOCAL BOARD

There is a possibility that J. W. Wheeler, vice-president of the Northwest Regional Convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, may address the Victoria Real Estate Board at an early date.

In anticipation of the convention of the Northwest body, which includes the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, and which is to meet in Seattle on April 3 and 4, the offer was made that Mr. Wheeler would be glad to address a meeting in Victoria to stimulate attendance at this convention.

The letter sent to Major H. Cuthbert Holmes was dealt with yesterday at the luncheon meeting of the board, when it was decided to offer Mr. Wheeler the opportunity to speak before the board in two weeks' or in four weeks' time, if agreeable.

It is expected 400 will be in attendance at the meeting in Seattle.

IMPROVEMENTS ARE ADVOCATED

J. A. Bennell Tells Realtors Properties Could Be Made More Rentable

Speaking before the Victoria Real Estate Board at its luncheon meeting held in Spencer's dining-room yesterday, J. A. Bennell, of the Royal Trust Company, stressed the importance of keeping various classes of buildings that were offered for rental up to date by the carrying out in many cases of inexpensive improvements in keeping with the trend of modern ideas.

Mr. Bennell did not advocate large expenditures, but he pointed out that in working with the co-operation of owners, it would be possible by modest expenditures to put many places that were not now being sought after, in shape so that they could be rented.

As an example of what could be done in the effecting of improvements that altered materially the appearance of houses, the speaker displayed pictures of what his company had done in the matter of reconditioning an old property on Dufferin Avenue and Cadboro Bay Road recently.

REVENUE PRODUCERS

Mr. Bennell showed that in the matter of houses, a little expense in improved sinks in the kitchen and alterations in the bathrooms would convert some of the older buildings that were now not sought, into revenue producers. Many of these older buildings were in reality better built than the modern ones.

There was no doubt, he said, there was a demand for modern houses, places of five or six rooms and renting for about $30 or $35 a month.

In the matter of apartments, Mr. Bennell advised consulting architects before attempting large changes. With regard to stores, he felt that instead of following the more American ideas with regard to fronts, it would be attractive to introduce some old English styles, which could be carried out more cheaply and would prove novel to visitors.

OFFICE BUILDINGS

In the matter of office buildings, the speaker pointed out that it was space that was being sold. The rentals were small and the renter should be required to make most of the alterations required.

After all, he said, when automobiles were old and not repairable, they were destroyed. The same applied to buildings. There were many of the latter which ought to be replaced with new ones.

Before concluding, Mr. Bennell pointed out to the wonderfully-attractive entrance by way of the harbor the city possessed. Following entrance to Victoria, vistors had to come along Government Street, and it was a duty cast upon citizens to see that this street was not allowed to deteriorate.

ENGLISH STYLE

Hubert Savage, as an architect, favored the idea of adopting, where possible, the English style of shop front as creating a distinctive attraction for visitors.

H. D. Patterson pointed out that by the system of publicity carried on over a long term of years, women had been educated to the advantages of modern plumbing and other accessories in the homes. They demanded these and the demand could not be refused if places were to be rented.

J. W. Jones also added some suggestions with regard to modernized dwellings.

TAX ARREARS RECEIPTS UP

Steady Increase Reported Over Four-Year Period—Easy Payments Possible

For four consecutive years the collection of tax arrears by the city has shown remarkable gains, George Okell, city assessor and collector, announced yesterday.

Up to February 20, a total of $25,900 had been collected in tax arrears as compared with $24,300 for the same period last year. In 1934 the collection amounted to $19,579 for the same period, and this figure in turn was substantially higher than the receipts in 1933.

During the past year a new policy has been established for the collecting of tax arrears, as the public is becoming more familiar with it, the collections are now increasing.

Arrears now can be paid on the easy payment plan, thus making it possible for many to steadily reduce the liabilities against their properties.

FAIR GRANTS ARE REDUCED

Survey to Be Made to Determine Usefulness of Regional Shows

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (CP).—Reductions in Government grants for fairs and exhibitions were announced in the House of Commons today, by Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

The grant for a Class "A" fair would be cut from $5,000 to $4,000, which would still be $1,000 higher than it was in 1934, the minister said. The maximum grant for Class "B" fairs would be cut from $3,000 to $2,500, which would be $1,000 higher than it was in 1934.

At the same time Mr. Gardiner said he hoped to have a standard for fair grants established for the whole country. This would necessitate co-operation with the provinces in connection with Class "B" fairs.

Regional fairs would be continued, Mr. Gardiner said, and their usefulness would be determined in a full survey, which now was under way.

The minister was the target for scores of questions relating to fairs, particularly their qualifications for Government grants.

The fair item of $1,490,700 finally passed the House.

TRYING TO KEEP HIS GOLD HOARD

Lithuanian Capitalist Seeks to Recover His Fortune Seized In New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP).—Judge Robert Patterson reserved decision today on a motion to set aside a search warrant under which United States Government agents seized a $338,000 gold hoard belonging to Zelik Josefowitz, Lithuanian capitalist.

Counsel for Josefowitz, now in Switzerland, contended the Government could not legally confiscate his gold because he was an alien and a non-resident of this country.

Assistant United States Attorney John Davidson argued that President Roosevelt's anti-gold hoarding edict was as binding on foreigners as on United States citizens.

Another Search For Hidden Gold

LONDON, Feb. 21 (CP-Havas).—Another attempt to find the mysterious treasure of the Cocos Island began here today.

Capt. C. W. A. Arthur, member of the board of directors of "Treasure Recovery, Ltd.," left here today for Panama to search for the fabled pirate hoard, which has an estimated value of $125,000,000.

Backed by funds secured through a public sale of stock in his enterprise, Capt. Arthur said he expected to reach the islands about the end of March.

TOLLS ON CANALS MAY BE STUDIED

Railway Minister Thinks Time Has Come for Consideration of Levy on Shipping

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (CP). — Railway Minister Howe told the House of Commons tonight that he believed the time had come to consider whether canal tolls should not be collected in Canada. He quickly added he was not advocating it himself.

The question of canal tolls came up tonight when the House was passing an estimate of $60,000 for the Welland Canal.

W. A. Tucker (Liberal, Rosthern) asked why tolls were not collected on the canals.

The minister said no tolls had been collected since 1904 and proceeded to refer to Canada's treaty obligations.

NOT PHILANTHROPHY

Conservative Leader Bennett said it was not philanthropy that prompted the Laurier Government to remove canal tolls, but it was an attempt to lessen the financial burden on Western grain growers.

Canada, because of treaty obligations, must charge American boats no more than its own for use of canals. In addition, all countries having favored-nation treaties are in the same favorable position.

PROLETARIANS HOLD BALANCE

Social Masses Party Makes Sensational Gains in Japanese Elections

TOKIO, Feb. 22 (AP).—Possibility that a third party opposed to the militarist domination of the Government might hold the balance of power in the new House of Representatives arose today in returns from the general election.

This is the proletarian Shakai Taishuto, or Social Masses party. It, however, was far behind the two major parties, the Minseito, closely linked with the Government of Premier Keisuke Akada, and the Seiyukai, principal foe of the Government.

As the second day ballot counting began, the standings were: Minseito, 109 seats; Seiyukai, 87; Shakai Taishuto, 19, and other proletarians, 2; Showakai, 11; Kokumin Domei, 4; Independents, 17.

There are 466 seats in the House of Representatives.

SENSATION OF ELECTION

The rise of the proletarians, who had only three seats in the last Parliament, was the sensation of the election, sharing the limelight with the defeat of Kisaburo Suzuki, president of the Seiyukai Yokohama constituency.

The possibility of a strong strategic position of the proletarian bloc in view of the likelihood that neither major party would gain a majority caused political writers to predict that this will prove a deterrent to "militaristic adventures."

Kanju Kato, labor leader, who made a lecture tour of America in 1935, was victorious on the labor union ticket, also counted in proletarian ranks.

SWING OF OPINION

A majority of the political commentators agreed that the election disclosed a strong swing of public opinion to the Left, with Fascist elements losing ground.

Most vernacular newspapers hailed the proletarian gains as a sign of hearty development in national politics.

Vote counting was completed in sixty-two election districts, and it was expected it would be finished in the remaining sixty today.

COURT HEARING IS ADJOURNED

Judge P. S. Lampman, While Granting Delay, Points Out Objection To Postponement

In the County Court yesterday, Judge Lampman set March 5 as the adjourned date for the hearing of the bondholders' case with respect to the priority of claim over that of Parfitt Bros. against assets of the Victoria Cold Storage & Warehouse Company. His Honor, in granting the adjournment, requested D. P. W. Maunsell, counsel for the bondholders, to acquaint his clients with the fact that the court was not inclined to grant any further adjournments.

The action is one which followed the judgment secured by David Tait and W. P. Marchant, representing Parfitt Bros., against the company for work done on the building here and which judgment was obtained on a mechanics' lien after several years' delay on the part of the company.

The bondholders in the East claimed priority over the judgment granted Parfitt Bros. and it is to settle this matter that the case is still before the court.

Mr. Maunsell informed the court yesterday that the bondholders would meet on February 24 to decide what was to be done.

Power and Economy Can Go Together . .

LET CHEVROLET PERFORMANCE★ PROVE IT TO YOU

EVERYBODY likes lively, flashing power—for it's power that gives "getaway" and the ability to hold to a comfortable cruising speed for hour after hour on the highway. But for most of us, the economy side of motoring—how much gas and oil we're using as the miles roll by—is just about as important as performance. So it's the combination of these two vital factors that counts—and Chevrolet combines them in matchless perfection!

The secret is, Chevrolet has a Valve-in-Head engine . . . best for a low-priced car because it develops more power than conventional engines — using less gas and oil.

For these very reasons, you find Valve-in-Head engines in the airplanes, speedboats and racing cars which have set outstanding records. You find them in some of the world's costliest cars. Yet Chevrolet is the only low-priced car that offers you Valve-in-Head power and economy —along with Hydraulic Brakes, Turret Top Body by Fisher, Fisher No-Draft Ventilation, Safety Glass throughout—and Knee-Action in Master De Luxe Models.

Columbia Board Sends Bursary for College

Recent Entertainment Enables W.A. to Contribute $100 to Anglican Theological College—Plans Are Made for Annual Meeting

There was an attendance of over seventy-five members at the meeting of the diocesan board of Columbia W.A., held in St. Mark's Parish Hall yesterday, where the members were given a cordial greeting by the parochial president, Mrs. McMillan, on behalf of her branch.

Mrs. Laurence, of Qu'Appelle diocese, was welcomed by the diocesan president, Lady Lake, who was in the chair. Regret was expressed at the absence of Miss Clair Belson, who was to have spoken at the afternoon session, the weather being the cause of her and other country members' absence.

RAISE BURSARY FUND

The board was gratified to hear the satisfactory returns from the dramatic entertainment given on Wednesday evening in the Memorial Hall in aid of the W.A. bursary fund, which fully reached expectations and enables the board to give $100 bursary to the Anglican Theological College. Thanks were expressed to all who assisted in the success of the affair, in which members of the Men's Guild also assisted. Mrs. A. A. Bengough led the intercessions at the afternoon session, the noon hour prayers and an impressive address being given by the rector, Rev. O. Jull.

A letter, received from Miss Loretta Shaw, of Tokio, Japan, was read by the junior secretary, Miss G. Checkley, followed by a report of the Indian women's branches at Alert Bay, which concluded with a highly appreciative comment on the help and support given to the W.A. branches by the rector of the parish.

ANNUAL MEETING

The programme of the thirty-second annual meeting of the diocesan board, to be held March 4 to 7, was discussed, and parochial officers were urged to attend the conferences arranged for presidents, or their proxies, who are also included in the conference for girls and junior officers. The junior secretary, Miss G. Checkley, invited W.A. members to attend the annual meeting on Saturday, March 7, and all women interested in the work of the church are invited to attend the meetings.

The convener of hospitality, Mrs. W. Heatherbell, 903 Linden Avenue, will be glad to receive offers of hospitality for delegates, or contributions toward expenses.

The secretary of girls' department, Mrs. Wilfrid Hartley, will also be glad of offers to billet girls coming from Up-Island for the annual meeting on Friday evening, or to pay for accommodation for one night.

The convener of the nominations committee, Miss Nicolls, Oliver Street, asked that nominations be sent in by Tuesday morning.

The Dorcas secretary, Miss Sill, asked that articles for the Dorcas display to be shown during the annual meeting be sent in by the branches in good time before the annual gathering. The secretaries will meet in the Memorial Hall on Friday, February 28, at 2 p.m. The secretary appealed for warm clothing to be sent for Prairie relief as soon after the diocesan annual meeting as possible.

APPEAL FOR MAGAZINES

The Columbia Coast Mission magazine secretary, Mrs. Philp, appealed for magazines and good reading matter for the camps and isolated settlers, also for up-to-date religious books for Rev. Alan Greene's traveling library, to be left in Room 22 of the Christ Church Cathedral Memorial Hall, Vancouver Street.

Mrs. Wilfrid Hartley announced that a "youth service," in connection with the World's Day of Prayer being held in Emmanuel Baptist Church, corner Fernwood Road and Gladstone Avenue, on Friday, February 28, at 8 p.m., offers an opportunity to the girls and business women to take part in the Day of Prayer, and urged members to attend it. The diocesan president and Deaconess Robinson are representing the Anglican Church at the afternoon meeting, which commences at 2.30 o'clock.

Deaconess Robinson will repeat her lantern pictures taken in England at St. Mary's Hall, Vale Street, on Friday, February 28, at 7.30 o'clock.

The meeting opened with the singing of the National Anthem, following a silent standing tribute to His Late Majesty King George V.

Wife Preservers

It is suggested that you put some old rusty nails in the bottom layer of soil when potting flowers, and you will have sturdier plants.

Almost all kinds of stewing or boiling should be done with the gas burner turned low; the results will be better. Rapid cooking often spoils food. The proper method is to start the boiling over a single burner with full flame, and when the boiling point is reached, turn the flame very low, or transfer the utensil to the simmerer, if you have one.

To give the sponge cake a richer brown crust, sprinkle a little fine sugar on the top before baking it.

If you keep your baked apples covered during the first half hour of baking you can be sure they will be tender all the way through.

Qualicum Beach

Lieutenant-Colonel W. H. K. Anderson left for Vancouver on Wednesday, after about two years' stay here.

Mr. Harold Jones left for home in Langley Prairie on Wednesday, after visiting his sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Samsom, and Harold, returned from a visit in Vancouver on Monday. Miss Rita Samsom stayed there with her uncle for a short visit.

The playing of the "Wedding March" by Mrs. Rose Gleason heralded the presentation of the many lovely gifts to the guest of honor, the parcels being concealed in a cedar chest, the gift of Mrs. Campbell. Navy League W.A. Elects Its Officers

The officers of the Women's Auxiliary to the Navy League were returned by acclamation at the annual meeting held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Gillespie, "Windyhaugh," Fairfield Road. They are as follows: President, Mrs. Sidney Wood; first vice-president, Mrs. C. B. Peterson; second vice-president, Miss Josephine Crease; secretary, Mrs. G. Kirkendale; treasurer, Mrs. L. A. Lucas; Sea Cadets secretary, Mrs. C. Henry.

YEAR'S WORK

The secretary's report contained a resume of the year's activities, special among which was a contest for a dinghy kindly presented by Colonel F. A. Lindsay. The auxiliary donated articles such as rod and line, hooks, bait, swimming suit, etc., to accompany the boat, which was won by three persons, who divided the contents, sold the boat and divided the money among themselves. Through the efforts of the Navy League, the cadets and the members of the auxiliary, the sum of $150 was realized as a result of the contest.

St. George's Day in April and Trafalgar Day in October were observed as usual by the auxiliary, the members being hostesses to the public at Sea Cadet headquarters. Through the co-operation of Lieut.-Commander Tribe and his instructors, an interesting programme was arranged, and visitors were shown over the building. The band, under the direction of Mr. Drysdale, played on both occasions.

CADETS ASSISTED

During the field day at Rodd Hill, where the Sea Cadets spend two weeks each Summer under canvas, the Women's Auxiliary received gratifying returns from the sale of refreshments, and the proceeds were given to the Navy League to assist with the field day prizes and a cadet's camp fee. The auxiliary had also assisted with the Navy League tag day on October 19. Regret was expressed that two of the members had left Victoria, Mrs. Mortimer Appleby having gone to England and Mrs. W. H. Booth to Port Alberni.

Commander Slingsby represented the Navy League at yesterday's meeting. The hostess, Mrs. Gillespie, who spoke a few words during the afternoon, referred to the kindliness of the American people and their tributes of respect to His Late Majesty the King, while she was in California recently. She was presented with a corsage bouquet. A bouquet of carnations and snapdragons was also presented to Mrs. Sidney Wood in appreciation of her interest in the auxiliary's work and her faithful leadership as president.

Tentative plans for raising funds were discussed before the meeting adjourned, and tea was served by Mrs. Gillespie.

The minister had just married an elderly and rather dour Scot to a woman considerably younger, and after the ceremony he remarked to the bridegroom—"Well, Macpherson, you'll be going for a honeymoon now?"

"Honeymoon?" echoed the other. "What's that?"

"Oh, you know," laughed the clergyman, "A little trip somewhere together before you settle down to married life."

The bridegroom shook his head morosely. "Na, na!" he said. "I dinna hold wi' gallivantin' aboot wi' a strange wumman."

Ladies Do the Honors At Topsy Turvy Dance

Commodore Broughton Chapter, I.O.D.E., Holds Enjoyable Leap Year Party At Royal Victoria Yacht Club—Men Guests of Fair Hostesses

Leap year accounted for the turn of the usual order of procedure last evening, when the Commodore Broughton Chapter, I.O.D.E., held its topsy turvy dance at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club. Instead of the ladies receiving the invitations, the flowers and the other perquisites usually bestowed upon them by their men friends, the latter were the guests of the evening, and were invited by the ladies, who booked the dances, took them to supper and escorted them home.

LADIES' INNINGS

It was the night for the ladies' innings, but so heartily did all the guests enter into the fun of the occasion, there were no "wall-flowers," and the party was voted a great success.

A four-piece orchestra was in attendance, and the latest music was included in their repertoire. In addition to medleys and the usual dances, there was one arranged as "gentlemen's choice," which gave the men a chance to do a little of their own choosing for at least a short time.

Supper was served in the dining-room upstairs, the tables bright with pussywillows, greenery and Spring flowers. The committee was headed by Miss Rena Fleming and members of the chapter gave valuable assistance in making the dance so delightful.

Nino Martini Dislikes Cold

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (CP)—One of the screen's great lovers admitted today he was far too busy even to think about love. Nino Martini, interviewed in Ottawa, was too occupied denouncing the cold weather, train journeys and his numerous engagements to wax romantic or poetical, as might other gentlemen of Verona, his home town.

He shivered as he told of the "terrible cold everywhere I go." As for a wife, Mr. Martini is a fatalist. But, with a snap of his fingers, he said "marriage is like this, and divorce like that," on this continent.

The ten-bid prizes were won by Mr. Cooper and J. Goldie.

"It is fortunate for most of us," writes J. M., "that we don't have to pay income taxes according to the impression we try to create on our vacations."

At the conclusion of the meeting tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Smith. They were warmly thanked for their kindness.

A friend once asked Bishop Stubbs why he had written a preface to a book about Silchester, the ancient Roman city, when he had never visited the place. "Many of my calling have never been to Heaven, nor may they ever go there," he replied, "and yet they speak and write about it, so I agreed to write about Silchester."

SHAWNIGAN, Feb. 21.—The monthly meeting of the Malahat Board of Trade was held on Wednesday evening in the S.L.A.A. Hall, with a fair attendance of members. The president, W. Mudge, presided.

A letter was read from the Tourist Trade Bureau asking the co-operation of the branch in an effort to advertise goods manufactured on the Island. In answer to recommendations from the board, a letter was read from the Minister of Public Works assuring the branch that the road work conditions referred to would be considered by the department.

Opening of the fishing season at the lake on March 1 instead of on April 1 was discussed, but any action on the matter was left in abeyance.

HON. DR. S. F. TOLMIE CHOSEN FAIR HEAD

$3,353, and in 1934 it was $2,764," Alderman Hawkins stated.

"The financial statement in your hands shows a surplus of $5,154. But since that report was made up other receipts have come in and we now find that the year ended with a surplus of $7,164," he explained.

Alderman Hawkins said it had been his ambition that a reserve fund of $10,000 be built up to meet emergencies such as occurred in 1932, and recommended the present surplus be left intact and increased to $10,000. He pointed out receipts had gained despite the fact that the admission price was cut in half.

EXPLAINS CHANGE

He explained it was found necessary to alter the fair dates from August of last year to September when it was discovered the association's revenue would be depleted by some $4,100 from the race betting percentage, if racing was not held in conjunction with the fair.

This year, he said, the directors felt it was advisable to hold the fair immediately following the Diamond Jubilee celebration in Vancouver so that as many exhibitors as possible could be encouraged to come to Victoria from the Vancouver fair.

After outlining the highlights of last year's fair, the president pointed to the need of a new cattle barn, and the increasing need of another exhibit building.

At the conclusion of the president's report Mr. Partridge asked for an explanation of why the fair dates had been changed. He expressed the view that the board of advisers should have been consulted. Since he had been on the board of advisers no meeting had been called, he said.

Mr. Mearns, secretary, pointed out that if the fair had not been held at the same time as the racing, the association would not have received its grant from the Provincial Government, or a percentage of the betting receipts.

MEETING WAS CALLED

E. W. Whyte, one of the advisers, said a meeting of the advisory board had been held last year, and that out of the forty members, thirty attended; but he was surprised Mr. Partridge was not there.

Mr. Partridge said he had not been advised of the meeting, but the secretary assured him a notice had been sent out.

Dr. Tolmie, from the platform, expressed the hope that the work of the association would continue harmoniously, and every effort would be put forth, not only by Victorians but the whole Island, to make the seventy-fifth anniversary of the fair an outstanding success.

MANY NEW MEMBERS

At the conclusion of the election of officers, E. H. M. Foot asked the secretary if remarks he had overheard, that about 100 membership tickets had been sold that day, were correct. The secretary replied that 125 member tickets had been sold, and that several men had come to his office with a list of names to take out membership tickets.

Mr. Foot then gave notice of motion that the constitution be amended so as to close membership between January 1 and the day following the annual meeting in each year. This will have to be discussed at a meeting to be held not less than thirty days hence.

Alderman Walter Luney expressed the view that this would discourage membership. The association had taken in $250 in new memberships, he pointed out.

George E. MacDonald congratulated the association upon having such a large increase in membership, and pointed out that, although among those defeated, he felt the directorate had been shown they had opposition, and expressed the hope a better fair would be held this year.

JAILED FOR HIGH TREASON

MUNICH, Germany, Feb. 21 (AP).—Charles Misselbeck, naturalized United States citizen tried for "attempted high treason," was sentenced today to two years' imprisonment, of which he has served nine months while under investigation.

"Three months in jail," said the prisoner. "Splendid!"

"What do you mean, splendid?" demanded the judge, sternly.

"I'm sick and tired of my wife asking me where we're going for our summer holidays."

What Today Means

"PISCES"

If February 22 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10.35 a.m. to 12.35 p.m., from 4.35 to 6.35 p.m., and from 8.35 to 10.35 p.m. The danger periods are from 8.35 to 10.35 a.m., from 12.35 to 2.35 p.m. and from 10.35 until midnight.

Be careful not to let anyone persuade you to do anything against your better judgment. A friend may innocently make a suggestion regarding some form of amusement which might not only prove costly but also decidedly foolish, so be cautious. There is danger this day of your becoming so absorbed that you will lose track of the passage of time, which is liable to cause you to get into complications. Those catering to the public will have to exercise unusual care in the handling of money this day if they would avoid sustaining a loss, or perhaps making a mistake. —Married and engaged couple, as well as those matrimonially inclined, will show good judgment if they are thoroughly unselfish in any decision involving the selection of some form of social activity or amusement.

If a woman and February 22 is your birthday, you probably have very strong will power, and may be perhaps a little too much inclined to force it on others, especially in the regulating of household or office affairs. Your popularity will increase if you keep any such tendency fully curbed. Being mentally alert and slightly aggressive, most obstacles in your path will be removed with very little difficulty. You ought to be thrifty, for your proclivities to make money seem to be unlimited. Apparently you will have a splendid opportunity to display your ability to handle, judicially, large sums of currency. Your ultimate success may depend on your ability to avoid arguments. As a real estate or insurance broker, lawyer, author, educator, radio broadcaster or saleslady the means for the advancement of your good fortune is most likely to come. All indications seems auspicious for your having a successful matrimonial career.

The child born on February 22 is generally born with the proverbial silver spoon in its mouth. Good fortune, probably from its infancy, will provide a comparatively easy road for it to travel.

If a man and February 22 is your natal day, your intuitive judgment ought to be excellent. Experience possibly has provided you with an accumulation of wisdom which may enable you to make a great deal of money. Through law, medicine, literature, teaching, preaching, selling or acting, your dream of ease may be realized.

Oxford Group Notes

Oxford Group meetings next week will be held as follows: Tuesday, at 8.15 p.m., an open meeting for women at Suite 1, Richmond Court. At the same hour a meeting for men will be held at the home of Tom Dalzell, 435 Richmond Avenue. A luncheon for men is held on Wednesday, at 12 noon, in Spencer's dining-room. Friday meetings include a gathering for both men and women at the home of Harold Patterson, 1004 Carberry Gardens, at 8 p.m., and one for young people at the same hour at 2 Patio Court, Oak Bay.

Further information regarding the movement may be obtained by communicating with the Oxford Group room, phone G 3142.

"Some motorists," says a judge, "never stop to think." Others never think to stop.

Churches and Their World-Wide Work

WILL REPLY TO SIX QUESTIONS

Dr. Clem Davies Has Varied Topics Sunday Evening At Empire Theatre

Dr. Clem Davies will answer the following questions next Sunday evening at the Empire Theatre.

"In its references to 'the latter days,' is it the 'end of the world' to which the scriptures point, or the 'end of the age'?"

"Where comes in the power of God if human beings and events are subject to the influences of the Zodiac and astrological pressure?"

"The scriptures state that God 'will send Elijah in the latter days'; do you think we shall recognize him?"

"To assist Italy to destroy the effectiveness of League sanctions, Austria has this week made an arrangement with Italy; what is the special significance of this move?"

"Are events focussing up for the appearance of a world dictator, commonly referred to in the scriptures as 'Anti-Christ'?"

"Will you repeat for the benefit of a group of students of prophecy the 'line-up' of the nations in Armageddon?"

At the morning service, Dr. Davies will give a follow-up message of last Sunday: "Will Jesus Return to Earth?"

FAMOUS PARABLE WILL BE SUBJECT

Canon Chadwick to Preach on "Good Samaritan"—Lenten Service Wednesday

The services at St. John's Church for Quinquagesima Sunday will consist of Holy Communion at 8 o'clock, Morning Prayer and sermon at 11, and Evensong and sermon at 7:30. The rector, Rev. Canon Chadwick, will preach at the 11 o'clock service.

In the evening there will be an organ recital by G. Jennings Burnett immediately before the service, commencing at 7:10 o'clock. During the service the choir will sing the anthem "The Marvellous Works," from Hadyn's "Creation." Canon Chadwick's sermon subject for the evening will be "The Good Samaritan."

On Ash Wednesday there will be Holy Communion at 10:30 a.m., and in the evening a Lenten service, with devotional address, at 8 o'clock.

In its welfare work for prisoners of the Province of Ontario, the Church of England Council of Social Service commended to the care of the clergy 1,311 ex-prisoners, out of a total number of 3,734 names received from jails and reformatories of Ontario.

TO INAUGURATE LENTEN SEASON

Cathedral Services Befit Period of Church Year

As Sunday, February 23, is the next Sunday before Lent, services on that day at Christ Church Cathedral will be in some measure an anticipation of the Lenten season, which opens on Ash Wednesday, February 26.

TO SHOW DIVINE AND COMMON LAW

The Victoria and District British-Israel Association's weekly meeting at the Foresters' Hall on Tuesday night will be addressed by E. F. Ashley Cooper, his subject being "The Divine Law and the Common Law."

The lecturer will take the position that while our present common law was undoubtedly formed in part upon the divine law as given to Israel, there have been so many man-made addditions to it that it is almost unrecognizable, and certainly not workable for this day and generation. Several examples will be given, showing how peace and plenty in place of unemployment, want and sickness, can be obtained by a return to the divine law as God gave it.

Lesson for Sunday to Be on Mind

"Mind" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday. The golden text is: "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: and the knowledge of the Holy is understanding" (Proverbs ix, 10).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths" (Proverbs iii, 5, 6).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When man is governed by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible."

DID MISSIONARY WORK UP-ISLAND

Rogers, B.A., who heard the call of the West from Dr. James Robertson, superintendent of Presbyterian Home Missions, and after his graduation in 1891 gave three years of pioneer service in the Kootenay area, from which he came to Wellington, Vancouver Island, for two years of mission work there.

TO LEARN SPEECH OF ABYSSINIANS

Translator Reduces Unknown Language of Cofa People to Writing And Publishes Gospel

How to understand a strange language for which there is no interpreter, and to reduce it to writing, is interestingly told by W. A. Ohman, who has given the Gospel of St. Mark in their own tongue to the 30,000 members of the Cofa people of South Abyssinia.

"Just when and how and where to begin," writes Mr. Ohman, "with this tongue that sounded like so much jabbering in our ears?" Noticing that the natives as they watched the foreigners unpack their goods frequently used the words "Hagei aibi," the missionary decided it was the Cofa expression for "What is this?"

When he tried out his surmise by pointing to a tree and saying "Hagei aibi?" he was happily surprised to find the natives giving their word for tree. So it was that soon he had quite a vocabulary of names. By going through various gestures he soon had a number of verbs and then in due time he found the other parts of speech.

The Gospel of St. Mark is now furnished these Abyssinians by the British and Foreign Bible Society and Mr. Ohman is working on the Gospel according to St. John.

MARINE, RAIL and AIR

LINE TAKES NO CHANCES

Will Keep Four Spare Propellers for Queen Mary At Cunard Depot

Four spare propellers are to be kept at Southampton for the use of the liner Queen Mary when she goes into service. The first of them recently left the foundry at Millwall for the Cunard stores depot. Each weighs thirty-five tons, is twenty feet long, and has blades of a maximum breadth of over six feet. They are the largest ever made and, for technical reasons, their size is not likely to be surpassed.

Experts of the Manganese, Bronze and Brass Company, the makers, commented recently on the calculated power represented in the four massive blades of each screw.

Every minute, as the Queen Mary travels on her voyages, 6,500,000 gallons of water will be expelled by each of the four screws. The tips of the blades, whirling through the water at 150 miles an hour, will each travel a distance of about 30,000 miles on the trip to New York and return.

GREAT STRAIN

So great is the strain imposed upon the equipment that the propeller-shaft in action is twisted around several degrees from the normal. Each blade yields elastically to the terrific pressure, although at its root the special manganese bronze of its construction is a foot thick.

A mild electric current is actually set up between the ship's hull and the churning screws as she travels through the water.

The great liner will be "sucked" rather than pushed through the water. Actually, two-thirds of the propulsive effort is exerted by the back, or suction, face of the blades and only one-third by the so-called driving face.

A dozen experts have worked for two years on the design of the propellers—they cannot be mass produced.

Weather conditions, speed requirements, clearances, characteristics of each radial section of the blades—based to some extent on aeronautical principles—and choice of materials, were all factors to be considered.

MANY PROBLEMS

Cavitation—the formation of a vacuum on part of the blades at certain speeds of revolution, of cardinal importance to the life of the propeller and the vessel's speed—and erosion had to be overcome, in relation to the Queen Mary's specifications.

The final design was the result of many tank experiments, and the study of the efficiency curves of whole "families" of other propellers.

The largest propeller in the world, a spare one for the liner Queen Mary, blocked the Portsmouth and Southampton Road near Botely, Hampshire, for over three hours. The lorry conveying the propeller to Southampton stuck on a gradient and its wheels sunk into the road. The lorry was a huge 80-horsepower six-wheeler. Traffic had to be diverted, for it could not pass either way.

For Bad Cough, Mix This Splendid Remedy, at Home

Needs No Cooking! Big Saving!

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this easily prepared mixture and try it for a distressing cough. It is no trouble to mix, and costs but a trifle, yet it can be depended upon to give quick relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water for a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. Get a 2½ ounce bottle of Pinex from any druggist, put it into a 16 ounce bottle and fill up with your sugar syrup. The 16 ounces thus made gives you four times as much cough remedy for your money, and is a very effective remedy for coughs. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

This splendid remedy soothes the irritated membranes, loosens the phlegm and helps to clear the air passages. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep.

Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine in concentrated form, well known as a soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

Good for coach travel and on the 9:30 p.m. train only, this special bargain fare to the mecca of Winter activities has been well received during the past few years, and has been the means of opening up a skiing territory acclaimed the best in the world. Passengers from Vancouver Island will be sold tickets good on the afternoon boats, March 5, connecting at Vancouver with train No. 2. From New Westminster, passengers will connect with train No. 2 at Coquitlam.

Tickets will carry a five-day expiry date, permitting travelers return passage on any train out of Banff, up to and including train No. 1 at 1.40 a.m., March 10, which will permit boat or train connections for the Island and New Westminster.

DECIDED FINE POINT OF LAW

Man on Gangplank Is Aboard Ship, According to Decision of Judge

SEATTLE, Feb. 21.—When a man is on a gangplank reaching from the deck of a vessel to the wharf, where is he—aboard ship or ashore?

Federal Judge Jeremiah Neterer answered this unusual question yesterday in an opinion holding that the gangplank is part and parcel of the vessel.

The point was raised when the jurisdiction of Admiralty Court was challenged in a libel suit brought by M. Prestlien, Everett longshoreman, against the Chinese steamship Shang Ho, of Tsingtao, for $50,000 for injuries sustained when he was hurled from the gangplank. Prestlien said the vessel was moved while he was still on the gangplank, throwing him to the wharf.

"The gangplank is a necessary part of the vessel as much as the engine used for operating the crane, hoist or derrick in loading cargo," the court held.

EXPANDING IN SARTORIAL WAY

Chinese Tailors Fit Out Beau Brummels With Western Styles

China, adopting Occidental male attire to an ever increasing extent, is developing what to her is a new type of artisan—Chinese-Occidental-tailor. Chinese Beau Brummels are clothed in the latest Western mode by native clothing makers.

Dr. A. E. Stuht, surgeon aboard the American Mail Line Ss. President Jackson, arriving here during the week from the Orient, has visited many of these establishments and states that the workers are sitting cross-legged, Western tailor fashion, upon tables, instead of sitting upon chairs as the Chinese have done for generations. There is much poring over Western style books and great discussions in high singsong.

Western shirts are made in China for the Chinese from Chinese silks, as are also ties, handkerchiefs, pyjamas and underwear. Many of the shirt companies in Shanghai have extended their trade to North and South American countries.

Several expeditions will prospect for coal on the Alozei Uplands (between the River Indifirka and Kolyma in Siberia and on the Tanyr Peninsula.

One of the largest expeditions will study the White Sea herds of Greenland seals. Another is going to the Eniseisk region to organize the breeding of the muskrat, which is valuable for its fur.

DISCOVERY SLIGHT FAVORITE ON EVE OF RACE

Seattle DeMolays And Dominoes in Crucial Fixture

Strong Hoop Quintettes Will Clash in International Basketball Attraction This Evening at High School Gymnasium—Ladysmith and West Saanich Mercantile in Opening Game

Intent on taking the "rubber" of the three-game series with the Victoria Dominoes, Canadian basketball champions, Manager Chuck Durgan and his Seattle DeMolay cagers will present a considerably strengthened line-up when the clubs meet this evening on the maple court at the Victoria High School gymnasium.

JOE MURRAY

Ladysmith and West Saanich Mercantile men's senior "B" hoopsters will play in the opening fixture schedule to commence at 8 o'clock, with the international classic billed to start one hour later.

In two previous exhibitions the Dominoes and the Seattle DeMolays have gained an even break. The locals squeezed out a 29-28 victory in the initial clash, only to have the Sound City cagers come back a few weeks later and reverse the decision with a 49-48 triumph. Tonight, in the third and "rubber" battle, rival squads will be battling every inch of the way for the fruits of victory and the honor of winning the series.

STRONGER LINE-UP

Manager Chuck Durgan, boss of the Seattle hoopsters, is confident his proteges, with the additional strength of Vic Calderon, outstanding star of the club a few seasons ago; Crandall Nefzger and Maynard Stokes, former Broadway High School hoopers, will be able to turn back the Dominoes for a second straight time and add further glory to their showing against the Canadian champions.

Lanky Joe Murray, good-looking youngster, will jump at centre for the DeMolays, and will have Johnny Strelo and Bill Hughes on opposite flanks. Roy "Fluffy" Williamson, sharpshooting defence star, and Vic Calderon will start as guards. Crandall Nefzger and Maynard Stokes will complete the line-up.

DOMINOES CONFIDENT

Dave Nicol, genial boss of the Victoria Dominoes, is not the least bit worried over the fixture. After the showing of his proteges against the touring House of David hoopsters, Nicol is confident his boys can take the measure of the Sound City cagers. However, he in no way under estimates the strength of his opposition and will send the Dominoes out to go at top speed all of the way.

Albert "Red" Martin, Art Chapman and "Porky" Andrews will form the Dominoes first firing line, with "Chuck" Chapman and Doug Peden, stellar guards, holding down their regular defence berths. Alex McKeachie, Jack Mottishaw, Axel Kinnear and Ollie Goldsmith will be on the bench and will be ready to step into the fray at a moment's notice.

CANUCKS WIN ICE FIXTURE BY 2-1 SCORE

Dominion's Hockey Squad Registers Narrow Victory Over Austria

VIENNA, Feb. 21 (CP).—Canada's Olympic hockey team came from behind to defeat a representative Austrian team, 2-1, in a strenuous match tonight.

The Austrians held the upper hand during the first two periods, showing clever combination. Demmer tallied their lone counter in the second period.

The Canucks supplied most of the action in the final session. Bill Thomson, of Port Arthur, scored the tying goal after a scramble in front of the Austrian net. A few minutes later Alex Sinclair, also from the Lakehead city, registered the deciding counter.

Some of the 5,000 spectators voiced disapproval of the Canadians' tactics in the second period, when a number of penalties were handed out.

GAME HELD UP

The match was interrupted for nearly ten minutes in that session, when the visitors threatened to walk off the ice as a result of the referee's decision in handing out a penalty to a Canadian. Dominion officials pacified the players, however, and play was resumed.

The Canadian Olympians face a busy exhibition schedule before returning home.

In the first game of the tour, last Monday at Munich, the squad was split up with members of the Port Arthur Bear Cats facing a team composed of players from Toronto and Montreal teams. The boys from the Lakehead won out, 6-5.

A second match will be played in Vienna tomorrow night, before the tourists push on to Praha for games on February 24 and 25. They then go back to Germany for games in Hamburg on February 27, in Berlin February 29 and March 1 and 2. Then they proceed to France.

Held Spotlight in Golf

"SCOTTY" CAMPBELL

E. L. HOWARD

Seattle golfers, who enjoyed the spotlight during the week in the Empress Mid-Winter tournament, which was cut short yesterday as far as outdoor play was concerned at the Oak Bay links, due to the heavy fall of snow. Campbell qualified with the lowest gross score of the meet, but was eliminated in the handicap event by Ralph Whaley, also of Seattle. However, "Scotty" finally hit his stride in the open championship, and was burning up the course when the weatherman put a halt to proceedings. He is snapped here driving off the short eighth tee. Campbell is twice a former Canadian titleholder, and is rated as one of the finest shotmakers on the continent. Howard, sixty-nine-year-old veteran, surprised everybody by winning the medal honors on Monday with a net 68, three strokes in front of the field.

SEATTLE WILL OPPOSE LOCAL TEAM TONIGHT

International Table Tennis Matches Are Carded at Crystal Garden

Top-ranking Seattle table tennis stars, headed by Ray Pearson, sensational schoolboy star and winner of the Washington State championship this year, will invade the city today to play Victoria's leading ping-pongers in an international inter-city match on the tables of the Victoria Table Tennis League at the Crystal Garden.

Women's and men's singles and men's doubles are slated on the programme, with the fair sex players scheduled to go to the tables at 8 o'clock.

CHAMPIONS COMING

Three champions are among the fair sex players who will make the trip here with the Sound city squad. They are Muriel Hoffman, Washington State champion; Pauline Fossas, California titleholder, and Paula Lindblad, winner of the Oregon State honors this year. Other fair sex stars coming for the fixture include Miss Pegy O'Neil, Miss L. Smythe, Miss P. Dickinson, Mrs. Les Smith and Mrs. W. Fossas.

With such a strong array of Sound city ping-pongers coming for the match, officials in charge of the event expect to see a large crowd of table tennis enthusiasts on hand to witness the matches. Special seating arrangements have been made in the lower ballroom, where the fixtures will be played.

Following the matches, the visiting players will be entertained by members of the Victoria team.

VANDERBILT'S GREAT HORSE EXPECTED TO WIN $100,000 EVENT

Will Go to Barrier at 6 to 5 Odds Against Classy Field of Fifteen Today at Santa Anita Track—Top Row and Time Supply Are Well Liked—Large Crowd Will Attend

By ROBERT MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—With a field of fifteen named to start, four crack horses remained top favorites today to win the $100,000 added Santa Anita Handicap.

The starters are Discovery, Top Row, Time Supply, Whopper, Ariel Cross, Singing Wood, Azucar, Rosemont, Preeminent, Tick On, Pompey's Pillar, Riskulus, Thursday, Howard, and He Did.

The first-named were the favored four — Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Discovery, at 6 to 5, the shortest-priced candidate in the outfit; Top Row, A. A. Baroni's 1935 nemesis of the great Discovery; Mrs. F. A. Carreaud's Time Supply, and Hal P. Headley's colt, Whopper.

HEAVY TRACK

Prospects are the track will be heavy when the richest turf classic of the year gets under way shortly after 4 p.m. (P.S.T.) tomorrow.

Three of the ranking favorites are touted as "certain" to dip into the $112,500 pot of gold, whether the going is tough or not. They are Discovery, Top Row and Time Supply.

But Mrs. John Hay Whitney's Singing Wood may move into the charmed circle if it rains before race time, and Whopper, giant of the thoroughbreds, may move out. He can perform in the mud, but not well enough to stay in the Discovery-Top Row-Time Supply class on the mutuel board.

Ariel Cross will be a sentimental favorite with Canadians. He is from the noted Canadian stable operated by Harry Hatch. He is shouldering only 106 pounds.

EXPECT BIG CROWD

Los Angeles turf officials went ahead with plans to handle a record crowd, ignoring unfavorable weather forecasts on the ground that after a week or more of rain the idea was no novelty and forecasts couldn't scare any one away.

They expect 50,000 or more—they hope it will be 60,000 or more—and will be overwhelmed if it is 70,000 or more. So will some of the 70,000 if it starts to drizzle just about the time they find they have a ticket on the wrong horse.

Gates to the big Arcadia Track, twenty miles from the hazy Sierra-Madre mountains, open at 9 a.m. The handicap classic is slated to be run between 4 and 4.40 p.m.

Miss Henie compiled 237.65 points in the school figures for a clear margin over Megan Taylor, of England, second with 228.72 points. Vivi-Ann Hulten, of Sweden, was third with 222.58 points, followed by Gweneth Butler, of England, with 217.42 points.

Calgary Chalks Up 4-2 Victory Over Portland

Retains Play-Off Chances In Northwest Hockey League Race With Win Over Buckaroos On Home Ice—Four Goals in Second Period

CALGARY, Feb. 21 (CP).—Calgary Tigers tonight scored a 4-2 victory over Portland Buckaroos in a Northwestern Hockey League game here. In retaining their few play-off chances by the victory, Tigers beat Andy Aikenhead, the Bucks' canny netminder, as often as any team in the circuit has this year.

Fighting to hold their slim chance for a play-off berth, the last-place Tigers went ahead when Happy Harnott scored on a pass from Tony Savage in the last minute of the first period. The rest of the scoring was packed into the second session with Buckaroos tieing the count twice before half the frame was completed.

TIGERS IN FRONT

Ralph Blyth, rangy Portland centre, slapped the puck behind Sam Timmins from a scramble in front of the Calgary net. Two minutes later Savage sent Tigers into the lead again on a back-hand shot. Jimmy Jempson put Buckaroos on even terms again on a tally that nobody but the goal judge saw. Play continued half a minute before the judge could get the game stopped.

Gordon McFarlane skated through the whole Portland team and beat Aikenhead, to give Tigers the lead again. Savage got his third scoring point of the game and ended the scoring on a shot from a few feet in front of the net after Dutch Gainor's drive struck the goal-post.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Real Mlle. De Maupin—Miss Maupin (1673-1707), a famous contralto of the Paris Opera, was a lady of great beauty and a distinguished artist. At the same time, she was an accomplished fencer, and would often parade in men's garb, to pick quarrels with some of the most famous swordsmen of the day. She fought eighty duels in this fashion, in all of which she was victorious. Ten of these duels ended fatally for her adversaries. Gautier's "Mlle. de Maupin" was inspired by the history of her life.

Mosquito Towers—Along the Armenian rail line between Julfa and Tiflis, U.S.S.R., the horizon is dotted with many derrick-like structures known as mosquito towers. They are really the bedrooms of Armenians who are able to gain access to escape the mosquitoes of that country. Mosquitoes only fly a few feet above the ground, and never as high as the lowest platform of the towers. Consequently, a night spent in a tower is a night of peace and rest as far as insects are concerned.

MID-WINTER GOLF ABANDONED UNTIL LATER DATE

Committee Hoping To Complete Meet Within Four Days

Decide to Gamble On Break From Weatherman In Near Future to Finish Off Tourney at Oak Bay Links—Heavy Snow Forces Abandonment—Miniature Course in Operation

Despite the heavy fall of snow which chased the competitors off the links yesterday morning not long after they started, the eighth annual Empress Mid-Winter Golf Tournament will be finished off at the Oak Bay course within the next three days, officials announced last night. Taking into consideration that three outsiders are in the semi-finals of the men's handicap and others in the various flights, the committee decided to gamble on a "break" from the weather man, and hold the out-of-town golfers in the city for a few days. Rain was falling heavily last night, and it appears that the links will be in shape to continue either Sunday or Monday.

As the first matches started off yesterday morning in the semi-finals it was snowing heavily, and after playing three or four holes the competitors headed back for the clubhouse, deciding that Old Man Weather was too much of a handicap to conquer. Officials immediately went into a huddle and decided to construct a miniature course in the lounge of the Empress Hotel and let the competitors battle it out there for the silverware. However, this idea was abandoned last night, and the tournament will go on.

TINY COURSE TOUGH

Last night at the hotel mixed foursomes, which were also snowed out yesterday, were held on three six-hole carpet courses erected hurriedly in the afternoon. A large entry list waited its turn to compete, but the holes, some of them shaped like a woman's high-heeled slipper with runways about two inches wide, were hard to solve. Some of the entrants took as many as thirty strokes before finishing the cup, so it was late on into the night before the last of them finished.

The three carpets, fifteen feet by thirty, were utilized as greens, with cushions under them to make a difficult situation even more difficult. No two holes were alike, and it was amazing to see some golfers in tuxedos and the women in long evening dresses trying to solve the courses. As a matter of fact, some of the boys took so long the newspapermen left, deciding to call for the scores in the morning.

Yesterday's open final between Albert "Scotty" Campbell, Northwest amateur champion from Seattle, and Harold Brynjolfson, Victoria star, was looked forward to with considerable interest in local golfing circles, and hundreds were disappointed when inclement weather forced its postponement. This match for the Victoria Chamber of Commerce Trophy, won last year by Ralph Whaley, Seattle, will be played along with the rest.

USE TENNIS BALLS

An amusing incident took place during the afternoon at the club. Decked out in heavy shoes, sweaters, gloves and what have you, a party of golfers, organized by Ralph Rogers, Vancouver, started from the first tee with their brassies and red tennis balls. They played two holes and finally gave up in a blinding snowfall. The party included "Scotty" Campbell, J. Royden Morris, Harold Brynjolfson, Cedric Walker, Adolph Schmidt, Bill Munro, Dave Randall and Ralph Rogers. It was reported a snowball fight ended the match on the short second.

HOW TO BOWL—NO. 6

Groove Your Delivery

By Mrs. Floretta D. McCutcheon, World Champion Woman Bowler

Mrs. McCutcheon Shows Proper and Improper Form in Delivery

Editor's Note—This is the sixth in a series of ten lessons on bowling, written especially for Central Press Canadian by Mrs. Floretta D. McCutcheon, woman champion bowler and nationally known bowling instructor.

WE have been talking a lot about delivery, because delivery is the foundation of your bowling. The ball you roll is going to depend on how you swing it in time with your steps as you approach the foul line. And just as a good golfer tries to "groove" his swing, you should groove your delivery.

That is, see that you start from the same position, go up to the foul line in as nearly the same manner and at the same speed, and end as closely to the same spot as possible each time.

FORGET SCORES AT FIRST

In fact, if the beginner bowler would concentrate on his delivery the first couple of months and forget about scores, the scores would be much higher, because often in trying for scores, bad habits of delivery are formed that are hard to break later on.

In this connection, I might mention shoes. Modern bowling alleys provide the very finest of equipment. Some good bowlers like to own their own bowling balls, but this is not necessary. Shoes are the only equipment that is needed.

Beginners can learn to walk up to the alley in any kind of shoes. But later on, when they go up faster, high-heeled shoes are very bad. So is a rubber-soled shoe. While at first you merely walk up to the line, later, when you have mastered co-ordinating your swing with your steps, you approach the foul line a little faster and should end your approach with a slight slide.

ALLOWING FOR SLIDE

For this, correctly made bowling shoes are of great help. They are made with leather soles, which allow for a slide but keep you from slipping. A gentle distinction, that, but one that every bowler will understand immediately. The cost of bowling shoes is slight. While you can bowl in any low-heeled shoe, still, if you have to think about your footing, a certain tension is unavoidable. When you wear bowling shoes, you simply forget about your feet and you find yourself in much easier balance.

One evening in the Radio City alleys, New York, a Park Avenue group, in evening dress, stopped by the alleys after the theatre, to bowl a game or two. The women of the party were in high-heeled shoes, naturally.

But they apparently knew their bowling, and appreciated the difficulty of high-heeled shoes. So the girls simply stripped off their shoes and bowled in their stockinged feet. Not so good as suitable shoes, of course, but better than high-heeled slippers.

Saanich Cagers Beat Ladysmith On Home Floor

LADYSMITH, Feb. 21.—Visiting West Saanich Mercantile cagers tonight defeated Ladysmith, 34-29, in the first game of the two-game total-point series for the Lower Vancouver Island basketball championship. The second fixture will be played at the High School gymnasium, Victoria, tomorrow evening. Play was halted three times during the fixture when the snow-laden wires interrupted the lighting of the hall.

LOCATELLI IN FINE VICTORY

Italian Welter Puts on Stirring Finish to Whip Izzy Jannazzo

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP).—Cleto Locatelli, Italian welterweight, put on a stirring finish tonight to wallop Izzy Jannazzo, rugged East Side battler, in a sizzling ten-rounder in Madison Square Garden. Locatelli scaled 143 1-4 and Jannazzo 146 1-2.

The fight drew only 2,328 fans, one of the smallest crowds of the indoor season. The pay-off was on less than $5,000.

The decision of the referee and two judges was unanimous.

Held on almost even terms during the first half of the bout, Locatelli, one of the most persistent challengers for Barney 'Ross' welterweight crown, sailed in to capture the last four heats in a row with a furious two-fisted attack that had the willing but outclassed Jannazzo wobbling at times.

Tomorrow thirty-six competitors will compete in the jumping tournament over the eighty-five-foot Thorncliffe ski jump, largest in Canada.

John Leslie, of Revelstoke, B.C., is the lone Western entrant.

RUGBY UNION OFFICIALS TO MEET TONIGHT

Important Session of British Columbia Body to Be Held in Vancouver

Definite plans for the Easter visit to British Columbia of the Stanford University ruggers will be made at a meeting of the British Columbia Rugby Union this evening at Vancouver, H. J. Ketchen, secretary, announced yesterday.

The Californians are asking for a guarantee of $1,500 or 75 per cent of the net gate, for a three-game series with Vancouver, Varsity and Victoria "rep" fifteens. The present schedule calls for the Stanford ruggers to play on the Mainland on March 25 and March 28, and visit here for a match with the local squad on April 1.

FAVORS PERCENTAGE

Questioned yesterday as to the financial arrangements of the proposed tour, Ketchen stated that the British Columbia Rugby Union is adverse to meeting the guarantee sought by the Californians, but they are quite prepared to go ahead with the schedule of fixtures under the percentage arrangement. Ketchen, before leaving for the Mainland, intimated that the visitors would accept the latter terms and make the tour.

Another important item and one that interests Victoria players and fans equally as much as the tour of the Stanford University ruggers, is the setting of the date for the final game of the McKechnie Cup series with Varsity and the local "rep" side. While no official information has been received, it is generally figured in local oval ball circles that the match will be played next Saturday at Brockton Point.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

Some of the remarks made by J. G. Brown, president of the Victoria and District Football Association, at its meeting last evening, were of a sensational character from a sporting standpoint and are generally accepted as an indication of the sentiment entertained by local soccer men with regard to the local branch of the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union.

After congratulating the different clubs represented on the success of the past season, the keen competition in the three divisions — first, second and junior—which were won respectively by Victoria West, North Ward and High School, he deplored the very unbusinesslike system with which the union had treated the association, and through it the football players of Victoria. Later he remarked that it was regretted that it had been necessary to deal severely with some of the players who participated in the local leagues, but he felt that stringency was imperative if proper discipline was to be maintained and good, clean sport secured. He had hoped that the rule would be enforced in the future as it had been in the 1910-11 series.

Not content, as the general sporting public had believed that the remainder of the fixtures in the McKechnie Cup series should be passed up by the Vancouver and Nanaimo teams, the scheduled game between these two teams for next Saturday will be played.

ESQUIMALT and the BRITISH NAVY

H.M.S. Champion and H.M.S. Triumph drawn from original photos taken about fifty years ago. Photos loaned by Archives of British Columbia.

ALTHOUGH the old association has been broken, there is today no port in the world where ships and men of the British Navy are more welcome than at Esquimalt and Victoria. From the earliest times the two small communities grew and prospered because of their association with navy men. Established in 1858, the Victoria-Phoenix Brewing Company realized the importance of brewing beer that would please men who had visited the ports of the world and had tasted beers of other lands. In Victoria the beer HAD to be good, and that is why today Victoria beer is the finest you can buy in any liquor store in the Province of British Columbia. Wherever you go you'll hear it said "Island beers are best."

Security Prices Little Changed At Wall Street

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP).—With tomorrow's holiday making for a long week-end, traders in today's stock market took fewer chances than usual and closing gains and losses were about a stand-off.

Probably the best showing of the day was made by the utilities and alcohols. Various specialties also gave a good account of themselves.

Transfers totaled 3,020,537 shares, against 3,493,970 yesterday. The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was unchanged at 62.5. The rail and industrial composites were off .2 of a point each, while that for the utilities gained .5 of a point.

Quiet strength dominated the bond market, with scattered domestic corporate issues appreciating most in value.

American Waterworks 5's gained 1 1-4 to 110, and the 6's were up 1 at 104. Tennessee Electric Power 6's increased 1 3-4 to 99.

Italy 7's were up 1 1-2 to 69 1-2. The remainder of the foreign list was fairly steady.

WHEAT PRICES DROP SLIGHTLY

Trading Dull at Winnipeg As Overseas Customers Place Few Orders

WINNIPEG, Feb. 21 (CP).—The wheat market moved in a narrow groove today as overseas customers held aloof from the buying counter.

There was only a scattering of traders on the floor throughout the session, although prices gave a steady performance to close 1-8 lower in all three futures. May finished at 83 1-2; July, 84 1-4, and December, 83 1-4.

Overnight buying for overseas account was estimated at 200,000 bushels. It was reported at the close, however, another 200,000 bushels had been accepted out of Vancouver. With the exception of an opening flurry commission house operations were of small volume.

Demand for cash wheat and coarse grains was slow.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

(Mr. Culbertson is acting as referee and reporter for a "grudge" bridge game. By general agreement he fines the players for their errors according to degree of stupidity: Class A errors cost them $1; class B, $2.50; class C, $5; class D, $10. This is the fifth hand in the series.)

"What do you think of the game so far, professor?" East asked me.

"Well, let's see. There have been four hands played and each of you has been fined. In all, there have been eight fines for a total of $24. Hardly expert bridge. But at least no one has been given a class D assessment as yet. That's something."

"Please," said North. "Don't even mention it. I'm superstitious."

"Is that the trouble with your game?" asked East, who loved to heckle.

"Play cards!" growled North.

This was the hand:

North, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ A 9 7 5 3
♥ 8
♦ 6 3
♣ A Q 10 9 2

WEST
♠ 6 4
♥ J 10 9 4 2
♦ K Q 5 4
♣ 6 3

EAST
♠ 10 8 2
♥ K Q 6 5 3
♦ 10 9
♣ 7 5 4

SOUTH
♠ K Q J
♥ A 7
♦ A J 8 7 2
♣ K J 8

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 NT	Pass	7 ♣ (final bid)

There was, of course, no play whatsoever for the contract, North's losing diamond had to be conceded for the setting trick.

"Aha!" said East, rubbing his hands. "How much does the kitty collect this time, and from whom?"

"North will kindly shell out $10," I answered. "His opening club bid, followed by a spade bid and rebid, was a class D error. South was not only entirely blameless, but I would have fined him for bidding less than seven. North's bidding, if correct, clearly showed a six-card club suit and a five-card spade suit. South's holding in both solidified the suits for eleven tricks, and his two red aces accounted for the other two. The four-five no trump convention located all the aces. At the worst, if North's club suit was missing the queen and he held a red king for compensation, the grand slam still would have better than an even chance."

"I knew, when you mentioned that no class D error had been committed, that I'd be the goat," said North plaintively. "I told you I was superstitious."

TODAY'S QUESTION

Question—If dummy has J 7 of the trump suit and declarer has A K 9 8 6, what is the best way to avoid the loss of more than one trick?

Answer—Assuming sufficient entries, the jack should be led, and, unless covered by the queen, allowed to ride. If it loses, later a finesse against the ten should be taken.

THE TUTTS ... By Crawford Young

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

TO BEAT BLACK AND BLUE

To beat black and blue, to be beaten black and blue, to beat a person black and blue—these are alliterative phrases that, in one form or another, have been in the English language for perhaps upwards of seven hundred years.

Anglo-Saxon literature, poetry particularly, is replete with alliterative metre, and the tendency towards this form of phrase characterized the subsequent development of the idiom of the language.

As long ago as the thirteenth century there was in common use for our black and blue in its modern sense the phrases "blak and bla" and "blak and blo."

One of the earliest appearances of the expression in its modern form is in the work "Sir Martin Marr-all," by Dryden, published in 1688.

Cadger—I'm on the trail of the man who's been saying I'm a business crook, and when I get his address I'm going to sue him.

Badger—Who is he?

Cadger—I asked a friend of mine who started the report, and he told me it was a fellow named Legion.

Jane Dixon Says:

THE TENDENCY OF WOMEN TO PLACE SO MUCH IMPORTANCE ON A DIFFERENCE IN AGE IS A HOLD-OVER FROM THE DAYS WHEN WIVES FIGURATIVELY WERE CHATTEL

Women place much more importance on a difference in age than do men.

The tendency is a hold-over from the days in which a wife figuratively was the chattel of her husband, a sort of glorified beast of burden.

She was supposed to serve her lord and master faithfully and well, and when she got the home smoothly under way, with a couple of children or more to keep it lively—she was to retire to the rocking chair and forget that she ever had possessed such assets as a pretty face and a fine figure.

In those days a man might be young at sixty, but a woman of sixty was in her dotage and any attempts she made to beautify herself or to recapture her spirit of youth were looked upon by family and friends as signs of senility.

IT'S ALL CHANGED NOW

It's not like that in these modern days.

Science has come to the rescue of the rocking chair, women and economics have taken us off the dole.

Every village crossroad has its beauty parlor where the latest in scientific discovery preserves and reclaims youth. In the cities high-powered specialists work miracles of eradication and restoration.

As for the women wage earners, they are as the sands of the sea. At their present rate of increase, within the next two generations they will be contributing as much as do men to the family budgets.

So that a woman's desirability in the marriage market is no longer reckoned solely on a scale of years.

It's her appearance, her personality, her contribution to the entire human family that fixes her value nowadays.

Dear Jane Dixon: I'm nineteen, and have been going with a boy eighteen for some time.

Do you know of any reason why it is inadvisable for a girl to go with a boy younger than herself?

This boy and I are in love—but that is not all. Our attachment is based on a very sincere friendship and on congeniality.

HER FIANCE HAS IDEALS

Quite a few other boys are attentive to me, some of them older than I, but I prefer the younger boy because he is so much nearer what I want the man I love to be—one with high ideals, refinement, thoughtfulness. He seems so much more mature than many of the older boys I meet.

People, as they will, invariably say something about this difference in our ages, and it does become annoying. As you said in your column the other day, life is too short to be talking and worrying about it all the time. Better to do something about it.

If we continue to be such good friends and so congenial, would our ages make any difference when we marry—not now, but in two or three years?—Dolores.

Answer: Anyone who remarks audibly about the difference in your age and that of the young man does so for the purpose of embarrassing or hurting you. I would consider them very "cheeky," and I should not hesitate to tell them so in very plain words.

The remarks of such persons should be flicked off your consciousness as one flicks an insect off the sleeve.

There is not enough difference in your ages to create a variance in taste, in your ideas of amusement or of objectives.

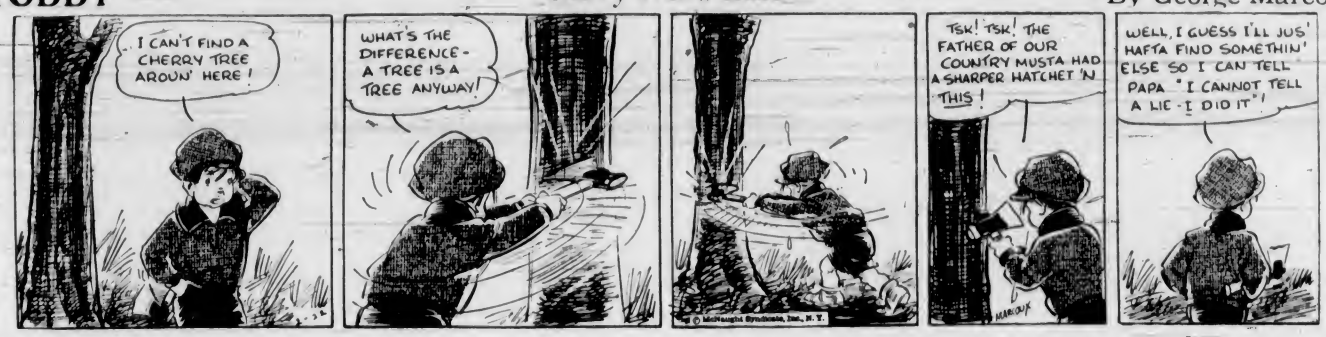

Besides, you will look and feel only as old as you allow yourself to become.

England's Hockey Squad Is Offered $5,000 to Travel

MONTREAL, Feb. 2 (?)—Guarantee of $5,000 has been offered England's new Olympic hockey champions to make a playing tour of Canada and the United States, it was revealed today by P. R. Marvin, Montreal sportsman.

Marvin said a cable had been sent to London by the Athletic Achievement Association of Montreal, asking the world amateur champions to visit the Dominion and certain United States cities.

SOCCER GAMES OFF

With football fields blanketed in snow, local officials announced late last night that all matches previously scheduled for today have been cancelled.

CHAPTER XXIV

The sun was low behind the pines. Lights, like friendly guiding eyes, were beginning to appear over Eaton Forest. The peace of early twilight had descended over the little colony.

Iris walked toward the sound of the waterfalls, her sturdy brown shoes making a crunching sound over the pebbled road. Taking the winding shadowed road that led to Bluff House, she found herself in a cleared opening where a stone house stood. Smoke was coming from the chimney.

Walking past the house, she came to a small stone platform. The whole world seemed to stretch before her below. From the great height the pines seemed tiny. Even the waterfalls, foaming over the rocks, seemed miniature from this high place. The incredible beauty of it all made her catch her breath.

There were tears in her eyes when she turned away. In the hazy light she saw someone step down from the stone porch and come toward her. He was a tall man who walked with a loose jointed masculine grace. He wore brown riding boots and an old sweater. The smoke from his pipe hung low about him.

Still she could not see him clearly. Iris set her mouth and smiled a little, thinking, "So this is the hermit who was everybody talking. He's very good-looking. I wonder if he is a savage. I wonder what he's going to say to me. He looks . . . yes, he looks like . . ."

He came close, quite close now, and Iris stood still, her hands clasped behind her.

"Iris," said Mark.

She had a first impulse, a crazy impulse, to reach out and touch him to see if it were really he. Then bewilderment cleared and the flame of anger came to her face. She had been deceived again—brought by Mary to Mark. By correspondence they had planned this neat little trick. But the angry flash died as quickly as it came and her mouth and eyes softened toward him. Mark—here! And all the stirring in her heart she tried to smother began again. Iris thought, "I'm living again."

He laughed that deep unforgettable laugh of his. "Did you drop out of the sky? Did wishing for you to be here bring you? I came out to look at the sunset, and here you are, Iris?"

"You knew perfectly well I was coming. Please don't pretend."

"I knew nothing of the sort."

She looked at him. "Didn't Mary . . ."

"Is she with you? One thing at a time . . ."

Then he did not know that she was coming. Iris believed him. It was Mary's little plan.

"I'm sorry," said Iris.

"You must think I make a practice of deception."

"No. I'm sorry. So many things have happened. Mary suggested this trip. It was terribly warm at home . . ."

"And this," he said, "is Eden. Won't you come in? It gets cold at night."

"The hermit is inviting me in?"

"Is that what they call me? I have been unfriendly, I suppose. But I'm weary of cocktail parties and small gossip and all the social things. I'm grateful to Mary for suggesting this place to me. Let's go into the house, Iris."

A large police dog pricked up his ears when they stepped on the stone veranda. He sniffed at Mark's riding boots and growled at the girl in the yellow sweater.

"Major is the orphan I adopted," said Mark, patting the dog. "The people who had the place before left him. We've become great pals."

In the long living-room Mark switched on a small lamp and pulled up two chairs by the fire. For some time they said nothing. Casual conversation between them was futile and foolish. Iris leaned toward the fire, her hand cupping her face. Mark lighted a cigarette and poked at the fire.

Had there been a force, stronger than Mary's wish, that had brought them together again. She dared not lift her eyes. But this meeting in what Mark had wisely called "Eden" would avail them nothing. It meant that they would have to say good-bye again, and the second time would be more painful than the first.

Mark smoked, inhaling deeply. How many nights, to the serenade of the falls, he had visualized Iris here just as she was now. He had begun letters to her numerous times. Some were filled with anger, others with tenderness: anger when he knew she loved him and had sent him away, tenderness when he thought of how much he loved and wanted her. How empty everything had been since that stormy day.

"You said that so many things had happened," he said.

"Louis had to let me go," she said quietly.

"His wife?"

"Partly. She wanted Camilla to have the job. Then," said Iris, "Louis and Annette faced each other with the truth. Annette has been unfaithful and admitted it. He is letting her divorce him. I didn't have a job and Louis didn't want me involved in a divorce suit . . ."

"I see," said Mark. He smiled. "Camilla doesn't need your job now. She's married. I had a letter yesterday. It was very sudden and she wanted me to know."

"She wanted to thank you for paying for her operation."

He shook his head. "How things get around. She married the president of a bank. He's a good bit older than she. She's known him for years." He threw the cigarette into the fire. "I can think of no better combination than Camilla married to—a bank." He looked at her. "And you, Iris, is everything still the same?"

"It is the same as it was two years ago, Mark. Eve is working now in New York. She's studying hard and growing up. It's odd, isn't it, that to get knowledge and work toward a goal one must have severe growing pains?"

"You should not have returned that money."

"I had to. It was a matter of principle and honor. I'd rather not—not talk about that money."

"How is Mary?"

In talking of Mary and Clive Leader she was spared talk of herself and her forthcoming marriage. Quietly, clearly, she told him of their meeting on the boat and Mary's decision, which she now regretted she had made.

He listened, his mind divided. In spite of that brave little air about her, Iris was miserable with her own decision. He asked himself, "What should I do now? Sweep Iris off her feet? I know she loves me. She betrays it every time she looks at me. Away from Joel, I could make her forget him and her promise to him. But do I want her like that? No. She must come to me of her own free will."

"And do you think that's the end of it?" he asked, coming back to the subject of Mary.

"I'm afraid so. He was so fine, Mark. (So much like you, she thought.) It could have been perfect, but Mary threw it away. She realizes her mistake now. Mark, I'm sorry about the day when I lost my temper and said so many beastly things to you. I could hear everything crashing around me that day. I'm sorry. I—I've been wanting to tell you."

He reached for her hand and stroked her fingers.

"That's over and done with. I don't believe in bringing up the past—the worst part of the past, I should say. We must forget the past, enjoy the present, and think hopefully of the future."

She drew her hand away and got up. "Mary won't know what's happened to me. Won't you walk back with me and see her?"

"It would be unfair not to let her enjoy her comedy. Or is it a comedy? Perhaps a tragedy, Iris."

When they came out of the house, Major followed at his master's heels. Where the road was steep he took her arm to guide her.

Iris was trying to analyze her feelings. If Joel were here, he would not be like this. He would complain about the penetrating mountain cold, the pebbled roads that were difficult for walking, and the long walk. She could not talk with Joel except to encourage him when he was dejected or reproach him when his ego became unbearable. Life with Mark, beyond the wonder of being loved by him, would be filled with amusing adventures in strange beautiful places.

Iris went into the cottage first. She stood in the doorway for several minutes without speaking, as if what she saw she felt she had no right to share. Then Mark heard her deep, happy laughter.

"Come in, Mark. I want you to meet Clive Leader, about whom I was telling you."

LEARNED FROM YOUNG INDIANS

R. Whaley, Seattle, Hunts With Bow and Arrow And Tomahawk

His life's history and accomplishments with bow and arrow, tomahawk and knife read like a fiction story.

Ralph Whaley, of Seattle, who is registered at the Empress Hotel, is this man. Many Victorians know him only as a fine golfer, for he is somewhat reticent to speak of himself, his business or experiences.

However, during an interview, he admitted he was financially a successful business man, and he went to say that although he was only in his early "forties" he had long ago learned to employ men who could do his business better than he could. Besides having widespread interests in Washington he operates a gold dredge in the North.

INDIAN FEATS

With the business left to faithful employees, Mr. Whaley finds plenty of time to enjoy golf and to hunt three months out of every year.

He was brought up on his father's cattle ranch in Washington State and for his companions he had Indian children of the Nez-Perce tribe, a section of the Blackfoot Indians. He joined them in their games and with them learned to make and shoot with a bow, throw a tomahawk with utmost accuracy and hurl a knife into the centre of a target.

BOW MIGHTIER THAN GUN

With the bow and arrow he has shot practically every form of animal in the Pacific Northwest, from the smallest, to moose and grizzly bear. Even the wily coyote fell victim to his long arrow shot from a six-foot bow with a ninety-pound pull, and Mr. Whaley has enjoyed good duck hunting with his ancient weapon.

This hunter explained that he finds the bow mightier in hunting than the gun. Whenever he shoots an animal the arrow goes completely through the animal and drops a short distance off. He stated the arrow cuts a large wound and the hemorrhages resulting cause an almost instant death.

KILLS WITH KNIFE

Mr. Whaley went on to tell of killing a large deer by hurling his knife from a distance. While running a trap line one time, he happened on the deer in the snow. He pursued it, but could not get within twenty feet of it, until he downed the animal with his knife-blade in its heart.

Mr. Whaley has a hunting lodge at Sproat Lake, which he visits frequently.

In speaking of the returning popularity of the bow and arrow as hunting equipment, Mr. Whaley stated a large parcel of land had been set aside in Oregon for bow and arrow hunters alone.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

STOMACH COMPLAINTS ARE NOT USUALLY DUE TO THE STOMACH

An outstanding surgeon made the statement some years ago that when a patient complained of indigestion or gas on the stomach, he had the liver tested to see if it removed poisons from the blood in the usual amount of time required, and also had the gall bladder tested to see if it were emptying properly and in the usual time. For, in his opinion, most of the "stomach trouble" of which patients complain is due to a faulty liver or gall bladder.

Now the stomach has a great amount of work to do. It takes into itself all kinds of food and liquids in very large and in very small amounts, sometimes as often as six to eight times a day and sometimes only once a day. It must prepare this food in such a way that the small intestine will accept it and further work on it so that the blood can absorb it and use it for building up all parts of the body, supplying digestive and other juices, and making all the body processes work.

And yet the stomach itself doesn't really get out of order. It is composed of strong muscular coats which churn up the food with the stomach digestive juices, and when the food is "ready," it drives it forward with these strong muscles into the small intestine.

But, as mentioned above, the stomach can be affected by other organs—liver, gall bladder, small and large intestine—which seem to "loaf" or back-up in their work, and the stomach is affected and blamed for the disturbance.

Thus Dr. Melvin Price Isaminger, Professor of Hygiene, Oregon State College, says:

"The stomach is often blamed for trouble which lies in other parts of the body. Curing so-called stomach trouble is more often a question of curing or treating some other organ or system. Stomach complaints are common; in fact, if one is ill at all, a derangement in the digestive system is almost certain to appear, but in four cases out of five there is nothing wrong with the stomach. The trouble is usually somewhere else in the nervous system, the appendix, the gall bladder, the lungs, the kidneys, the liver or the intestines; or perhaps there is nothing wrong at all."

The point, then, is that stomach ailments do occur—inflammation of the lining, ulcers, and even cancer—but "four times out of five" the real trouble is elsewhere, should be searched for, and corrected.

"The man I marry must be a man in a million," declares a film actress. Not, as we might suppose, a man with one.
